Survives shooting

A veteran Madison businesswoman, Tillie Nornberg, is in satisfactory condition after being shot through the head by a young would-be robber Tuesday. A suspect is in custody.

Miss Nornberg, 60, of 1817 Sixth St., Madison, is in Room 7419 at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, and can receive visitors. The suspect, a 14-year-old Venice teenager, was sought in this area and in the metropolitan region. St. Louis police took him into custody at 2:50 p.m. Wednesday, and he is to be transferred here today by his father and Madison police for questioning.

The shooting occurred at about 4:10 p.m. Tuesday at Nornberg's, a clothing and department store at 307 Madison Ave., Madison. Initially taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, the victim was transferred the same day to Barnes Hospital.

National Steel Corporation announced Wednesday in Pittsburgh that it has reached an agreement to acquire Hubbell Metals Inc., a metals service center organization headquartered at St. Louis, in exchange for National's common stock.

The agreement was approved by Hubbell's board of directors, and remains to be approved by its stockholders and by National Steel's board of directors. Details of the agreement were not disclosed.

Hubbell Metals has 13 plant locations in the Midwest and Southeast. They are located at Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham and Gadsden, Ala., Charlotte, N.C., Granite City, Ill., Greenville, S.C., Indianapolis, Ind., Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo., Louisville, Ky., Memphis, Tenn., Orlando, Fla., and Wichita, Kan.

ADM plant crackdown

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

In action that some aldermen described as "long overdue," the Granite City Council Tuesday night concurred in a recommendation that city sewer service to the Archer Daniels Midland plant on Carroll Road be discontinued unless problems in the plant's sewage disposal system are resolved within 30 days.

The council, by unanimous vote, authorized Mayor Paul Schulz to notify company officials of the decision.

The action was taken on a motion by Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward and a second by Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, both proponents during recent months of a "get tough" policy to enforce correction of longstanding sewer problems in the Steelcenter subdivision which the city claims are caused by the effluent and quantity of sewage from the ADM plant.

Council action to set the shut-off date was recommended by City Engineer Monroe Brewer in a lengthy report in which he outlined problems in operation of the sewer line and lift station which serves the ADM plant and a number of homes connected to the same sewer line.

Brewer noted that the city has had problems with the sewer line and the Lockhaven lift station since its installation in 1974, and said that repeated efforts to correct the problems

Bigger tax bite slated for June

Although property assessments in Granite City Township declined $1,383,757 below those of a year ago, taxpayers will be charged this summer with payment of $728,307 more in taxes than they were a year ago.

The reason is an increase of 46.4 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the total combined tax rate of $6.953 which has been extended this year for the seven taxing districts of Granite City Township. Last year's combined total rate for all seven districts was $6.489.

The new tax rates extended by the county clerk's office applied against assessments for the 1977 tax year show that Granite Cityans will be billed this year for an increase of $12,259,195, an increase of $728,307 over the $11,530,888 billed for collection last year.

On this basis, rate increases incurred by Granite City taxing districts more than offset the decline in property valuations which totaled $176,315,264 for computation of the 1977 tax bills for that area to be collected this summer.

The 1976 property assessments on which tax collections were based in the summer of 1977 totaled $177,699,021.

Tax bills for all Madison County townships, including the Quad-City townships of Granite City, Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau, are expected to be mailed by mid-June, the Madison County Treasurer's office told the Press-Record Tuesday.

Completion of the bills had been expected by the end of this month, a spokesman said, but further time has been required by the county's data processing department which is preparing the tax bills countywide.

Unless further unforeseen delays are encountered, mailing of tax bills by mid-June would result in a due date of Aug. 1 for the first installment, with the first penalty assessed Aug. 2. Due date on the second half of the tax bill would be Sept. 5 with the penalty assessed Sept. 6, the treasurer's office said.

Memorial observances

Holiday observance of Memorial Day was becoming even more confused today as business firms, schools, public offices and financial institutions announced plans for marking the event on Monday or Tuesday.

Because of a federal mandate moving certain holidays to Monday from their regular dates, providing a three-day weekend, Memorial Day this year is on Monday, one day before the regular date of May 30 which falls on Tuesday.

As a result, observance of the holiday is being planned by many on both days, promising a mixed response in work shutdowns and in memorial services and other events.

For example, public schools in Granite City, Madison and Venice will conduct classes on Monday, but close on Tuesday to observe Memorial Day, while most retail stores and business have indicated they will close on Monday and be open for business on Tuesday.

Granite City municipal employees and city offices will observe the holiday on Tuesday, conducting regular hours Monday. Madison and Venice city offices plan to close Monday and operate on Tuesday.

Township offices in Granite City will follow the city's lead, remaining open Monday and 1st female aluminum roller

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

It's a tradition in the Buckingham and Mount families to be a steelworker. Both names have been synonymous with steelmaking in the Quad-City area since 1900.

The latest addition to the industrial dynasty is an attractive, quiet-spoken brunette with blue eyes, who is keeping alive the family heritage spanning over 80 years.

Sheila Buckingham is the first woman in the nation working as a highly skilled roller on an aluminum mill. In this role, she is smashing all concepts of women in industry, probably shared by her forefathers, and is doing it rather effectively.

Sheila is following in the footsteps of her late maternal grandfather, James Mount, who came here from Indiana in 1900 to roll steel on a new mill.

The granddaughter now is in the top-paying job of roller at the Consolidated Aluminum Corporation plant in Madison. She is a member of the United Steelworkers of America (USWA), Local 4894, and recently was visited on the job and received personal congratulations from Buddy Davis, USWA District 34 director.

Consolidated Aluminum is known throughout the industry as "the largest aluminum fabrication shop in the world," rolling aluminum into coils for building products and molding specialized aluminum products. The Madison plant employs about 700 United Steelworkers and Sheila is one of 20 women working at the industrial facility.

Employment at the plant has doubled since 1974, making have failed, including complete replacement of the sewer line and the lift station at ADM's expense.

Council members remarked Tuesday night that the city has been too lenient in enforcing action by ADM to resolve the problem of an oily and greasy content in the sewage which clogs the lines and prevents the pumps from working.

Whitmer, has been particularly critical of sewer overflows, backups in basements and other problems resulting from the ADM line.

Brewer said that following complaints by a resident of the Steelecrest subdivision a month ago and subsequent instructions by council members that he discuss the matter with company representatives, he met with an ADM attorney who "assured me that they (company officials) would investigate the problem and give us some positive steps for resolution."

The engineer said he also began at that time "to monitor the effluent to attempt to determine any changes in the volume of grease and oil content of the discharge."

Brewer added: "During the middle of April, I was verbally informed by ADM's local attorney, Mr. Leo Konzen that ADM had placed a new device on the line to remove grease and cool the effluent."

"This seemed reasonable since a test taken on April 7, 1978, showed that the grease and oil content was below the maximum allowed by our ordinance for the first time. Subsequent tests, however, showed that the grease and oil content had returned to its usual high and, in fact, tests taken May 15, 1978, and May 17, 1978, showed the problems still to be three times as high as any test we have ever taken.

"I am enclosing a short report to indicate the technical problems which are evident and need to be addressed to resolve the problem. I am enclosing copies of correspondence which have been generated over the past two years to verify that the City has taken reasonable steps in the past to resolve this problem and that the action that I am about to request is neither unduly harsh nor unexpected."

"The ADM problem seems to increase in magnitude during the years as ADM only verbally assures us that they are attempting resolution. I, therefore, request that in accordance with Ordinance No. 3286 of the City of Granite City, which governs sewage discharge, that the mayor, with proper advice from the city attorney, be authorized by council order to notify the Archer Daniel Midland Corporation that if the technical problems listed in the attached report are not resolved within 30 days, the sewer service of the Archer Daniel Midland Corporation will be terminated by the City of Granite City."

In the report of operations of the ADM sewer line and lift station, Brewer said in part: "The problems caused by the installation in 1974 of a sewer line to serve the Archer Daniels - Midland Corporation at the Granite City Plant have plagued the operation of the city sewer system in the Nameki area from the time of installation."

"Prior complaints from the city have led to the replacement of one lift station and 3,000 feet of faulty force main at ADM's expense."

"In spite of continuous monitoring and verbal and written complaints, the following problems still remain and must be corrected:

"1. Flows from the plant into the city's sewer system continually are in excess of the average flow of 100 gallons per minute allowed by their EPA permit. These excessive average flows cause the main line that services the plant and many residents to become continually overloaded."

"2. Excessive maximum flows are known to occur from time to time. This is caused during periods when both sewage pumps at the plant are operated. Each of these pumps have a capacity of 350 gpm which means that any time the two pumps are operated a flow of 700 gpm could occur which is well in excess of the 200 gpm maximum flow allowed by their EPA permit. Only one pump should operate at any time."

"3. Charts made of flow in the main line to ADM and observations of the operation of the lift station at the Steelecrest Subdivision indicate that many times when the excessive maximum flows occur it is during a period of rain. This would cause suspicion that ADM has some storm water cross connected into the city system. The answer to this question has never been satisfactorily refused by ADM."

"4. Since the opening of this plant, excessive grease and oil in the effluent have plagued operation of the city system."

"5. Since the plant has been in operation, the lift station and manholes in Steelecrest Subdivision emit odors that are probably caused by combination of the high oil concentration and high temperature of the effluent. The city has received numerous complaints from residents regarding these odors."

"6. There is no device at the plant to indicate when the lift station at Mockingbird Lane in the Steelecrest Subdivision is not functioning and by the time the repair crew reaches the scene after the alarm sounds, the sewage level in the lift station is at a level which causes it to flood basements."

Pupils attending those parochial schools will report to their regular classes on Wednesday, May 31, which will be the final day of school.

St. Elizabeth, Granite City, and St. Mary/St. Mark, Madison/Venice, will hold the last day of school Friday, May 26, and will not be affected by the Memorial Day observance.

GC taxes

which are assessed on the basis of square footage are to be mailed this week with a due date of Aug. 1 for the entire amount and a penalty date of Aug. 2.

Bills for personal property which are prepared by the treasurer's office rather than by data processing are expected to be mailed by the end of this month. If the mailing is accomplished by then, the due date on the entire amount will be July 3 with the penalty on unpaid bills beginning July 4, the treasurer's office reported.

This year's bills for Granite City Township will be based on rates for seven taxing districts which include the county, the city, School District 9, the Metro-East Sanitary District, Belleville Area College, Granite City Township and the Granite City Park District.

New tax rates have increased for all of the districts except the county, for which the new rate declined from 58.8 cents per $100 assessed valuation last year to 54.7 cents this year.

Largest increases occurred in the rates of the city of Granite City and School District 9. This year's tax rate for the city has been extended at $1.511, an increase 20.9 cents over last year's rate of $1.302, while the new rate of $3.80 for School District 9 is 23.9 cents higher than last year's 1978 tax rate of $3.561 per $100 valuation.

Increases in all of the other district rates were slight. The new rate for the Granite City Park District of 25.8 cents is 9.1 cent one higher than last year's rate of 24.9 cents, while this year's rate of 18.8 cents for Belleville Area College is a raise of .8 of one cent over the 18-cent rate of a year ago. The Granite City Township rate is set at 24.9 cents per $100 valuation, up 3.5 cents from 21.4 cents and the rate for the sanitary district is 40 cents, or 5 of one cent higher than a year ago.

Rates for both the sanitary district and BAC were extended by the county clerk's office on the basis of last year's rates because property valuations in the St. Clair County sections of the two districts have not been completed and rates not yet established.

Items valued at approximately $1,200 were stolen from the tractor-trailer of James Madison, 15 Tulip Court, Pontoon Beach, between Friday and Saturday, he told Madison County sheriff's deputies Monday afternoon. The truck was parked at the Puma Truck Service, Arlington Drive and State Aid Route 35, when looted. The right cab wing window was pried open and tools were taken from the cab. Also taken were three tires, eight chains and eight chain binders.

room by his father, who told officials the boy had found a bottle of a mercury compound in the glove compartment of the family auto and swallowed it. It is believed the mercury compound was used by the father in a magic act and he had placed it in the glove compartment after doing an act.

The child at first experienced only coughing, but symptoms of internal injuries developed quickly and he was transferred to the St. Louis hospital by Granite City ambulance attendants.

They reported the child became critical during the ambulance trip and emergency treatment was required in the ambulance to keep him alive. Doctors have been hindered by a lack of knowledge about the exact mercury compound the boy swallowed and feared it may be one which reacts to liquids chemically, sources indicated.

Salvation Army installs

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

"We are the army which serves under two flags — the flag of the United States of America and the flag of the Salvation Army — and we have one ultimate goal — to direct individuals to a better way of life," Lt. Col. Donald Rose, commander of the Midland Division of the Salvation Army, told a gathering of about 50 persons during the Salvation Army Granite City Corps' advisory board installation luncheon Wednesday.

Lt. Col. Rose, who is responsible for 27 Corps community centers, social service centers and other functions, both in Illinois and in Missouri, was the chief speaker and installing officer at the advisory board installation.

He noted the major role of the Salvation Army is to help people in need, offering counseling, guidance, administering to material needs, and helping people in any way possible, within the resources of the Corps.

It also helps people find a better way of life through community center activities, summer camps, providing jobs and other activities, he stated. "Through the kind act, we try to direct them to a better way of life, but not with high-pressure sales pitches. That is not our style," he stated.

Lt. Col. Rose installed the new officers of the advisory board, including Richard Kerch, who

PLAYGROUND FALL SUIT
A two-count lawsuit has been filed in Madison County Circuit Court against Granite City Community Unit School District Nine by Ronald Habs, a minor, represented by his mother, Joann Habs. The suit alleges that on Sept. 3, 1976, when he was 10 years old, he fell from "monkey bars" at the Lake Elementary School playground and was hurt.

FIND STOLEN CAR
The auto of Marion Beckett, 13274 Chouteau Slough Road, was stolen from St. Thomas Road and West Chain of Rocks Road prior to 12:30 a.m. Tuesday and was recovered at 1:15 a.m. Tuesday in the 2500 block of Hodges Avenue. The ignition lock had been punched in so the car could be started without a key.

the left eye, and authorities believe the .22-caliber bullet left through a wound in front of the right ear. How she escaped more serious injury than is apparent is unknown.

Police called to the scene found Miss Norberg behind a counter at the rear of the store. There was blood on her face and the front of her dress. She is thought to have remained conscious.

Miss Frances Norberg, her sister and co-owner of the store, told authorities a teenage boy came into the store. He apologized for having caused a disturbance there last Thursday, May 18, but then announced a robbery, it was related.

As the victim's sister was getting money out of the cash register, the youth fired at Tillie Norberg, police were told.

A .22-caliber nine-shot High Standard revolver was found on the floor in front of the counter.

Police identified the gun as one that was reported as stolen by its owner, a Collinsville man, at 8 a.m. Monday, May 8. It was taken from a van in the parking lot at the Consolidated Aluminum Company plant in Venice and Madison.

Both Madison and Venice police were at the shooting scene within two minutes after an alarm had been set off Tuesday.

Several off-duty Madison policemen also responded to the call and an immediate search for the youth began.

Periodic imprisonment

Richard A. Miller, 23, Wood River, has been sentenced to two years of periodic imprisonment by Judge Joseph Barr in the Madison County Circuit Court on each of two counts of reckless homicide. These are being served concurrently, beginning May 20. Miller, a student at SIUE, was charged in connection with the deaths of Marjorie Joan Wilson, 22, Glenwood, Mo., and Wayne D. Dickinson, 22, Creve Coeur, Mo., on Aug. 17, 1977. The victims were fatally injured in a traffic accident on the campus. Miller was found guilty on the two counts by a criminal jury in the Third Judicial Circuit Court March 28. University police alleged Miller was southbound on University Drive and had passed another vehicle at high speed when his vehicle struck Miss Wilson's northbound car head-on. She was pronounced dead at the scene and Dickinson, who was driving her car, was pronounced dead upon arrival at Anderson Hospital, Maryville. Miss Wilson, a reporter for the St. Charles Banner-News, and Dickinson were enroute to a performance of the Mississippi River Festival at the time of the crash.

Probation on weapon charge

Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr has ordered Ronald Burcham, 23, of 2431 Adams St., to serve two years of probation after he pleaded guilty to unlawful use of a weapon. Burcham allegedly had a gun in his car when police checked it Feb. 15. The charge against him was reduced from unlawful possession of a saved-off shotgun.

ARREST IN DISTURBANCE
William D. Gaddy, 27, of 2016 Fourteenth St., was charged with batter and disorderly conduct after a disturbance in his home at 10:40 p.m. Sunday. His sister-in-law, Trudy Dunham, 1928 Beckwith St., Madison, alleged Gaddy struck her, threw a television set at her and was throwing furniture around the house.

Madison schools interested in using part of Army tract

Meetings still are being held with representatives of the federal government and other interested agencies in regard to obtaining 321.08 acres of land and 17 buildings at the Granite City Army Installation. At the Tuesday night Madison City Council meeting, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk said, "I met this morning with representatives of the United States Health Education and Welfare agency and the local school board."

"The school may be interested in using one of the buildings for perhaps a vocational building. We are still meeting with the Port Authority and other cities. Hopefully we will be able to work out something that will be of a real benefit to the whole area."

An ordinance amending the Appropriation Ordinance for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1978, was passed, providing for additional appropriations to the "alarm service fund" of $15,000 for the burglar alarm project and $2,300 for supplies and postage. Madison Health Officer Vasil Gravelle reported that 158 dogs and one cat were given rabies shots between 5:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. at the rabies clinic held at the city garage.

A question was raised about trucks creating dust at a lot on Market and Washington streets. Chief of Police Donald L. Bridick was instructed by the mayor to check into the matter. The council approved bills in the amount of $25,257 for the period of May 16 to May 23 and to allow Parents for Special Education to hold a road block and solicit funds on Wednesday, May 31.

The council also approved payment of $57,500 for the new fire truck that was delivered to Madison at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday of the total $29,000 of the truck cost is being paid for with Community Development funds and the rest from revenue sharing funds.

Door-to-door sales

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)
Q. What are my protections under the law if I buy something from a door-to-door salesman?

A. Remember that if you buy something from such a person, chances are you will never see him again. Should the product need repairing or replacing, and you have already paid cash, you will have no chance of getting that money back.

If the person tries to deceive you in any way to get you to buy his product, he is breaking a state law. If this happens to you, contact the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Fraud and Protection Division.

There is an office in Springfield at 600 S. 2nd St. and another at 228 N. LaSalle in Chicago. Contact them as soon as you can. They will be happy to help you.

Your prompt action could help other people.
Q. What happens if I sign a contract?

A. The best advice to remember when you sign a contract is this: You are bound by that contract and you must live up to your end of the bargain.

Make sure that all blanks are filled in before signing and that you receive a copy. There are certain exceptions to this rule, but make sure they apply to your situation before signing the contract.

If the salesperson comes to your home without your asking him to, and sells you something that costs more than $25, he must also tell you about your right under state law. This law says that under these circumstances, you have three business days to cancel the agreement.

Q. What should I do if I suspect a salesperson is fraudulent?

A. If the person uses high-pressure tactics, you don't want to deal with him. Tell him you would like to think about his offer, and ask him to come back the next day.

If he refuses to come back for a sale, you know he will never come back if you have problems with your product. You could also ask the person to show you his driver's license. Again, if he refuses, you do not want to deal with him.

In either case, call the police immediately, and contact the attorney general's office. Your prompt action could save other people from being gyped.

By waiting even a day to report, the person could be hundreds of miles away in a different state.

Note: If you would like copies of the attorney general's booklets, "20 Ways Not to be Gyped" and "Your Protection Against Fraudulent Sales, Advertising and Loans", send your name and address to Aging, Box 60, Springfield, Ill. 62716.

Gypsy moth may have spread to this state

A statewide survey to determine whether the gypsy moth has spread to Illinois will be conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) and the Illinois Department of Agriculture from this week through Aug. 15.

Landowners throughout Illinois will be contacted by survey workers to gain permission to place the traps on their property, according to Richard Lovejoy of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) office in Princeton.

The gypsy moth is a European insect accidentally released in the United States from the laboratory of a Massachusetts naturalist in 1869.

Although harmless as a moth, the caterpillar stage feeds on the leaves of shrubs and trees, often defoliating entire forests.

Lovejoy said over 9,000 gypsy moth traps will be placed throughout Illinois during the survey period by the USDA, state agriculture workers, state foresters and conservation groups.

The triangular traps are 7½ inches long and either brown or orange colored.

A non-toxic sex attractant that draws male gypsy moths is placed in the traps. Once inside, the moth is held by a glue-like substance spread on the trap walls.

Lovejoy said there is a strong possibility of a gypsy moth infestation in the River Forest area. Surveys in 1970 and 1977 turned up evidence of a gypsy moth presence.

Because of the suspected infestation, over 500 traps will be placed in the River Forest area. If the infestation is confirmed, treatment could begin as early as the spring of 1979.

"Early detection and treatment of the pest is critical," Lovejoy said. "A small infestation in Palos Park was treated successfully in 1975 and subsequent surveys of the area have shown no further sign of the moth."

Infestations containing millions of caterpillars can strip entire forests in a few days, but only a few of the millions of trees stripped each year die.

"Most of the stripped trees put out new leaves. However, even a single defoliation can seriously weaken a tree, making it susceptible to other insects and plant diseases," Lovejoy said.

"Repeated years of destructive feeding can result in massive tree death. An infestation in New Jersey in 1968 killed over one million trees by 1971."

"It takes between seven and nine years for a gypsy moth infestation to reach the point of severe ecological and economic damage."

Voluntary health care cost curb succeeding Robert W. O'Leary, president of the 300-member Illinois Hospital Association, reported this week that the voluntary effort of Illinois hospitals to contain the rate of increase of health care costs is showing signs of early progress.

In February, Illinois Congressman Dan Rostenkowski, chairman of the Subcommittee on Health of the House Ways and Means Committee, delayed legislation proposed by the Carter Administration to place an arbitrary "cost cap" on hospitals, and he challenged the hospital industry to develop voluntary methods to reduce the rate of rise in health care costs.

Hospitals throughout the country accepted the challenge and created a program called the "voluntary effort" to accomplish the rate reduction, O'Leary said.

In Illinois, a special voluntary effort task force of hospital executives has been meeting regularly to establish procedures and methods to achieve its objectives.

Illinois Hospital Association leader O'Leary said, "According to Consumer Price Index (CPI) figures published by the U.S. Department of Labor for the end of March, we have reason for optimism."

"The CPI indicates that health care costs are increasing at a slower rate than many of the other components it uses to track the cost of living in Chicago. Health care costs are increasing at only half the national rate."

The government data for the end of March indicates that the national CPI increased 6.5 percentage points over last year. In Chicago, the figure was 3.1.

This means the price that consumers paid for goods and services in the Chicago area was 1.6 percentage points more than the price paid on the national average.

But the national medical care component, which indicates the price consumers pay for medical care, was reported at 8.6, while the Chicago figure was 7.5; this indicates that Chicagoans paid 1.1 percentage points less for their health care than the rest of the nation.

O'Leary said that although representatives of the Administration have expressed doubts about the success of a voluntary hospital cost containment program, the government's own CPI statistics, which he said many in the hospital field believe are biased against the industry, indicate that "hospitals in Illinois are sincere in their efforts and are beginning to make good progress."

"We are convinced that these statistics are a good indication of the success of the voluntary effort. Although the available data is for the Chicago area, we are certain it is an accurate reflection of what hospitals are doing throughout the state."

Drive to aid Olympic fund

Klinke Toyota has launched a campaign to help raise a $1,000,000 contribution to the United States Olympic Committee for the training of American athletes preparing for the 1980 summer games in Moscow.

Called "Toyota's million-dollar dash for the Olympics," the program will raise the funds through donations made by Toyota and its dealers for every retail new car or truck sale before June 30.

"Since U.S. Olympic efforts receive no direct government financial aid, donations are always needed to help field a team," Klinke Toyota officials said this week.

"We hope this program will make it easier for our Olympic officials to meet the expenses they will face in putting together a winning U.S. team."

Prison term of two years

Robert R. Cherry, 19, Collinsville, has been sentenced to serve two years in prison by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

Cherry and a 16-year-old Collinsville boy allegedly were seen in a stolen pickup truck by Pontoon Beach police Feb. 20 and were later arrested. The truck was stolen from the home of Dennis Britt, 302½ Village Lane, it was alleged.

Another stolen pickup truck was included officers when Cherry's truck was stopped was later found abandoned on Walker's Island in Horseshoe Lake.

Charge 3 women

Rosemary Echols, 22, of 22 Garesch Homes, Madison, was charged with attempted theft and Gayle Gage, 23, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and Pamela D. Baker, 19, of 22 Garesch Homes, were charged with disorderly conduct after an incident at No. 1's, 14 Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

A clerk said four women entered the store and picked out some clothing. One woman allegedly used a credit card to pay for the $111 worth of clothing and the clerk called to verify the credit for the purchase.

Visa alleged the card had been stolen and the four women were held for police. One was released after questioning.

Auxiliary 113 names Girl Staters

Mrs. George K. Durbin, Girl State chairman of American Legion Auxiliary, Tri-City Unit 113, today announced the selection of Christy Bauer and Robyn Johnson as the unit's representatives to the 38th annual Girl's State program. The 1978 delegates will attend the Illinois Girl's State project, sponsored by the Illinois Department of the American Legion Auxiliary, at MacMurray College in Jacksonville, Ill., June 18 to June 25.

Both girls are junior year students.

Miss Bauer is the daughter of Dr. Maria Bauer, 3214 Princeton Drive, and the late Dr. Otto Bauer.

She is a junior at Granite City High School South, a member of the Student Council, Social Studies Club, Girls Athletic Association, tennis and basketball teams and the National Honor Society.

Miss Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford G. Johnson Jr., 2801 Lynch Ave. A junior at Granite City High School North, she is a member of the Board of Silver Spirits, National Honor Society, Student Council, cheerleading squad and is an avid roller skater.

About 325 high school juniors attend Girl's State from all sections of Illinois. Purpose of the program is to provide citizenship training, Mrs. Durbin said.

Participants are afforded an opportunity to live together as self-governing citizens and to learn "by doing," the duties and responsibilities, as well as the rights and privileges of American citizenship in order to better understand and participate in the functioning of government, the chairman stated.

Noting that Girl's State is a mythical state, Mrs. Durbin said the state is patterned after the State of Illinois' governmental bodies as closely as possible.

The girls form two political parties, live in "separate cities," hold conventions, campaigns, caucuses and elections. They also perform other duties, pertaining to various public offices.

Mrs. Durbin said there is a staff of about 50 women at Girl's State, including experienced teachers of civics and government, a counselor in residence for each city, a staff advisor for each dormitory and other qualified personnel to conduct different programs.

Registered nurses also are on 24-hour duty throughout the period of the program. Illinois Governor James R. Thompson will greet the girls, as well as Senator Paul Simon. One day will be spent at the State Capitol building in Springfield, where the girls will observe the legislators in action, Mrs. Durbin said.

Those eligible to attend Girl's State are young women who are juniors in high school and are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary units.

Mrs. Durbin explained other organizations may sponsor a girl, with approval of a Legion unit, should the quota of 540 girls not be filled before May 1.

Dr. Maria Bauer and Christy, Mrs. Ford Johnson and Robyn, accompanied by Mrs. Durbin, attended a Girl's State tea recently at Cahokia Legion Hall, hosted by Mrs. Elaine Wallingford, 22nd District Girl State chairman.

The tea doubled as an orientation session for the young women who were advised on the type of clothing and other items to take along to Jacksonville.

Last year's Girl Staters described their experiences for the new candidates.

The girls will leave for MacMurray College at 10 a.m. June 18. The group from 22nd District units will gather at the 76 Truck Stop, Route 162 and I-55, near Troy, for the trip to Jacksonville, Mrs. Durbin said.

Stray pets to be sent to pound on daily basis

Nameoki Township will continue to take stray dogs and cats picked up by the rabies control commission to Edwardsville on a daily basis, rather than hold them for a period to be claimed, the town board decided Monday night.

The rabies control committee had been requested to study whether the township should improve its facilities for holding dogs and cats so they can be held longer, or whether the practice of taking them daily to the county rabies control pens should be continued.

A 1972 ordinance was cited in which the township is to impound them when caught, but to turn them over to the county within 24 hours.

The committee recommends that the stray animals claimed before they are taken to Edwardsville be released to their owners for a $5 fine and proof the animal has had rabies shots, but only the first time an animal is caught.

Subsequent offenses of animals violating the leash law should result in the animal being sent to Edwardsville and the owner paying the fine there to claim the animal, Adams said. He noted county fines range from $5 to $50.

He said the committee does not feel an animal caught in violation of the leash law more than once should be released to the owner after the first time, even if the owner attempts to claim the animal before it is taken to Edwardsville.

He also notified residents that there will be two rabies inoculation clinics in the township this week, one from 5:30 to 7 tonight at the Pontoon Beach Village Hall, and the other during the same hours Friday at the township garage, 4250 Highway 162.

New leader of Wesley Foundation

The Reverend James Wheeler will become director of the Wesley Foundation at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, effective June 15.

Bishop Leroy C. Hodapp, Springfield, said Rev. Wheeler succeeds the Rev. Robert J. Treat as director.

Rev. Wheeler is currently student assistant at the Archer United Methodist Church, Allendale, N.J., and a student at Drew School of Theology, Madison, N.J.

A native of Marion, Ill., he will graduate this month with a master of divinity degree from Drew School of Theology. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Wheeler of Marion.

The United Methodist clergyman graduated from Marion High School. He is also a graduate of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale with a bachelor of science degree.

Rev. Wheeler's wife, the former Marjorie Freeman, is a native of Chester, Pa.

The clergyman was ordained as a deacon in the Southern Illinois Conference of the United Methodist Church in 1977.

He has worked three years in rural development in Haiti with the Menomonee Central Committee. He has also worked during an intern year as campus minister at Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

He is the convener of the Student Assembly (president of the student body) at Drew School of Theology in 1975-76. He also has served as financial aid assistant to the dean of students at Drew.

State health budget proposal ignores downstate—McPike

State Rep. Jim McPike on Tuesday said it was a necessity to place the Department of Public Health appropriation for the 1978-79 fiscal year into subcommittees of Appropriations Committee II in the Illinois House.

"In many cases, men and women from the minority party will blast the Democrats because they have placed next year's fiscal appropriation into subcommittees. I would like to explain why this bill needs to be placed in subcommittees."

"1. The department continually made tremendously poor people decisions."

"2. The department's appropriation failed to provide enough money to take care of next year's estimated expenditures for those people on the kidney dialysis machine."

"That would mean 450 people would either have to go on public aid or die. This is critical for those 450 and is important for the legislature to address conscientiously."

"3. Local health departments have not had an increase in their grants from the state since 1975."

"We believe local health departments ought to receive an increase. It is intended to amend the appropriation and give them a five percent grant increase."

"4. The Department of Public Health under Governor James Thompson's administration failed to spend $3.5 million in federal monies for child and maternal health programs."

"Because the state failed to issue those grants to the local governments, they lapsed. The state of Illinois cannot have that money to spend this year."

"5. The Department of Public Health applied under Title XX for monies. It will receive $5 million in family planning."

"That means that all local health departments can only use those monies that they receive from the state to explain to people family planning goals."

"Even if every local health department dreamed for the whole next year, there is no way that they could spend the $5 million."

"Local health departments need money for pre-natal services, and maternal and child health service—not only for family planning programs."

"6. The Department of Public Health initially had a cloud on the program of emergency medical services. That would have been a catastrophe for downstate counties."

"7. The department had

Two get prison terms, ten others placed on probation

Two men have been sentenced to serve prison terms and ten others have been ordered to serve probation, some with jail time or fines, all in connection with Quad-17 area crimes.

Leonard D. Riley, 47, of 3049 Washington Ave., has been sentenced to serve four to five years in prison after pleading guilty to armed robbery.

He allegedly used a butcher knife to rob the service station attendant at the Clark service station, Nameoki Road and Washington Avenue, of about $150 Jan. 8. A station attendant grabbed his knife and held Riley until police arrived. It was alleged, Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr pronounced sentence.

Robert L. Baker, 19, Cottage Hills, was sentenced by Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark to serve four to four and one-half years in prison after pleading guilty to an armed robbery Nov. 30, 1977, at the Clark service station, Highways 111 and 162, Ponton Beach, using a knife.

About $42 cash and $13 worth of gasoline were taken from two armed robbers from an attendant, who was struck during the robbery.

David E. Dickens, 36, of 1604 E. 23rd St., was sentenced by Judge Clark to serve one year of probation after pleading guilty to aggravated battery. It was alleged he cut Robert W. Reynolds on the face and hand Sept. 18, 1977.

Julian B. Wallace, 41, of 4734 Lake Drive, Lot 12, Ponton Beach, has been sentenced by Judge Barr to two years of probation after pleading guilty to possession of cannabis.

Wallace was arrested at his mobile home "about a month ago" at the Metropolitan Enforcement Court of Southwestern Illinois (MECSI), who obtained a search warrant for the home.

William W. Kmucha, 20, Ferguson, Mo., who also has been involved in the 1700 block of Cleveland Boulevard, has been sentenced to serve one year of probation and to pay a $500 fine after pleading guilty to possession of cannabis. MECSI agents and Granite City police used a search warrant to enter two apartments in the 1700 block of Cleveland Boulevard Aug. 30, 1977, and alleged finding marijuana in each. The tenant of the other apartment also was arrested, Judge Clark pronounced sentence.

Charles Robbins, 29, of Kirkpatrick Homes, has been sentenced to serve one year of probation and to participate in a drug rehabilitation program after pleading guilty to unlawful delivery of a controlled substance. He was arrested in January on a warrant, Judge Clark presided at the sentencing.

Judge Clark also has sentenced Gary W. Barnhart, 18, of 2162 Edison Ave., to serve two years of probation after pleading guilty to burglary. He was one of two young men arrested by Ponton Beach police Dec. 22 after a riding lawn mower and a chain saw were removed from the storage shed of Circuit Court Bailiff Charles Parkinson, 3901 Lake Drive, Ponton Beach.

Robert Smith, 19, of 1117 Iowa St., Madison, has been sentenced by Judge Clark to serve two concurrent probation terms of three years after pleading guilty to two counts of burglary.

He allegedly burglarized Madison Auto Parts, 1020 Madison Ave., Jan. 13 and again Jan. 16, setting off a burglar alarm the second time. Madison police alleged finding him inside the store.

John Waldron, 25, Caseyville, was sentenced by Judge Clark to serve two years of probation and six months in the Madison County Jail after pleading guilty to possession of marijuana.

Ponton Beach police and MECSI agents used a search warrant to enter his home in August of 1977 and alleged finding marijuana.

John C. Hand, 19, of 3001 Lake Drive, Ponton Beach, has been sentenced, also by Judge Clark, to serve four years of probation and six months in the Madison County Jail after pleading guilty to an attempted burglary Dec. 14, 1977.

Darren Murphy, 18, of Edwardsville, has been sentenced to serve 30 days in the Madison County Jail and two years of probation after pleading guilty to a felony count of theft from a Jan. 7 incident. Judge Barr pronounced sentence.

Gregory Davis, 22, of 302 Wilson Park Lane, was sentenced by Judge Barr to serve one year of probation and two months in the county jail after pleading guilty to cannabis possession in January. He was arrested in the 2100 block of Edison Avenue after allegedly visiting an apartment police were watching during a drug investigation.

A cannabis possession charge against Richard K. Tarr, 23, of 1728 Cleveland Blvd., has been dismissed by Judge Clark. He was arrested Aug. 30, 1977.

Boushard will aid petitions for Lucco

State Representative Joe E. Lucco, (D-Edwardsville) said Monday evening three other candidates will be on a new political party to be formed for the general election in November.

"According to the State Board of Elections guidelines, a full legislative slate must be presented," he said.

The slate will be composed of Ed Baczewski, 52 Kasing Drive, Fairview Heights (Clinton Township) for senator in the General Assembly, John Boushard, 433 Lincoln Ave., Venice, Herman O. Edwards, 285 Main St., Alton, and Joe Lucco for representatives.

"The party will be known as Citizens for Lucco. All candidates' names will appear on one petition permitting one signer to sign for all the candidates."

"A total of 3,642 signatures are required to form a new party. Petitions may be circulated by anyone who is a voter in the 56th District who did not circulate a petition in the primary election March 21."

"Anyone, regardless of party or whether they voted March 21 or not may sign the petition."

"The petition is to organize the party and place the candidates on the ballot for the general election in November."

"All candidates on the slate have been lifelong Democrats. None except Rep. Lucco are presently holding any political office."

"Anyone wishing to circulate a petition may call or write me at my home address of 214 Banner, Edwardsville 62035. The phone number is 656-2479."

Rep. Lucco's present legislative term at Springfield extends through this year. He lost in seeking a Democratic nomination March 21.

The primary election nominated two Democrats and two Republicans for three Illinois House seats, and traditionally in this district two Democrats and one Republican have been elected.

In running as an independent Nov. 7 Lucco seeks to serve along with either two Democrats or one Democrat and one Republican, depending on the vote totals.

Pen mightier than muscles?

HOLLYWOOD — The once-mighty 22-inch biceps has diminished to a mere 20 inches. The undulating landscape of flesh has shrunk by 20 pounds. And Arnold Schwarzenegger — that mammoth monument to muscle no longer is gorging on five meals a day and flexing everything from his trapezius to his latissimus dorsi.

Arnold, the Austrian Oak, is just like you and me. Almost.

The five-time Mr. Universe and six-time Mr. Olympia, the most honored male physical specimen in the world, works out these days only to stay in shape.

Which, in this case, still is a considerable undertaking. Being the biggest built in the world no longer, at 30, motivates Schwarzenegger. His interests have broadened as his 6-2, 215-pound body has narrowed.

"There is no reason to compete, to be the best body builder in the world," he says. His Germanic accent lightly flavoring each word. "I got my point across."

"I was the best in the world — and I have used that as a means to an end."

Schwarzenegger's most recent interest is his book, "Arnold: The Education of a Body Builder." A promotional tour is taking him to 30 cities.

Everywhere he goes, in custom-made clothes that accommodate more than accentuate his Herculean physique, he is, well, noticed.

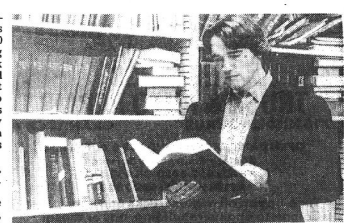

And as a body builder turned actor, author and businessman, he expects and enjoys it.

"What I do," he says, "hits home. People want to be in shape, whether they admit it or not. They are very conscious of the body. People want to look good."

Schwarzenegger is an engaging, articulate spokesman for body building. This — with his book and another he intends to write as an aide to women — consumes much of his interest.

Another stereotype — that of body-builders in general as narcissistic, arrogant and vanity-consuming physical objects — is one Schwarzenegger, by his very presence, is refuting.

"A body-builder looks in the mirror," he explained, "because of instant feedback. Just as a sprinter looks at the stopwatch. The idea isn't to be visually appealing but to achieve ultimate physical development. To prove who's best."

"Body-building competition isn't a beauty contest. Arnold has never lacked, however, for fawning females."

A bachelor who still is looking for the woman with whom he can spend the rest of his life, he dismisses dates with Hollywood starlets because "I'm not into that."

"First," he says, "a girl has to have a great personality, a sense of humor and be extremely bright — as much as me. I'm not more. She may be a girl I meet on the beach, without a penny to her name."

And physically? "What is attractive to me is not necessarily attractive to the rest of the world. I'm not attracted to the blond, beach-type who hang around Muscle Beach and play volleyball."

But the female companions must share his devotion. Where once he was consumed by competitive body-building, today he has a whole new body of interests.

"I'm into the arts, entertainment, books, promotion. So many different things."

Indeed, Schwarzenegger sees growing in a whole new dimension these days.

Last but not least THE LAST SHERLOCK HOLMES STORY, by Michael Dibdin; Pantheon; 176 pages; $7.95. This may be the greatest and most astonishing Sherlock Holmes story you ever will read. It also may shock you more than any other — not just the brutality of the events, but also the eventual "solution" to the crimes. Dibdin obtained his material from notes opened to public scrutiny after having been sealed 50 years, and what he found makes for a great mystery story.

Don't get cold feet Q. Our house is built on a concrete slab and my wife's feet get cold. We can use new carpeting and I would like to know if it is feasible to lay the new carpet over the 10-year-old nylon carpet for the added thickness? — John I.C.

A. This would not be practical. I recommend removal of all carpeting and padding, then install a heavy grade rubber padding and a good grade carpeting. All concrete slab floors should have thick dirt layers, the thicker the better. This also protects against moisture.

Steele against off-track betting

State Representative Everett C. Steele (56th District) yesterday announced his opposition to the legalization of off-track betting in Illinois. The bill, one of the key issues of the current session of the General Assembly, provides for regional municipal corporations to operate off-track betting parlors at which bets on horse races could be placed. The state would be divided into eight regions, with the largest city in each region designated a "core" city and charged with administering the bill.

The "take" from the bets would be split between winners, the cities running the regional corporations, and the state. Rep. Steele said, "It is wrong to legalize another form of gambling and it is immoral to impose a tax on poor people to help those of us more fortunate, and that's what state-run gambling does."

"Once again we are being led down the primrose path of legalizing additional gambling, just as we were with the lottery, while listening to the siren song that to do so will produce money for schools and for our hard-pressed cities."

"However, I predict that we won't reach the winner's circle. We will find, just as with the lottery, that illegal 'bookie joints' will flourish as always and our schools and cities won't get enough extra money to matter."

Steele said he is voicing his opposition to off-track betting at this time partly to help bring the matter to the public's attention. He feels that the public needs to be warned that the bill will be voted on in the near future, in both houses of the General Assembly.

Another controversial feature of the bill, he said, is that it gives the regional corporations the power of eminent domain (right of condemnation) and the power to issue bonds.

"Many observers feel that this would open the way for the city of Chicago to build a new sports stadium."

"Provisions are unclear as to who would pay off the bonds if the OTB corporation didn't have enough income," he commented.

UNITED AUTO WORKERS ON THE MOVE

How the UAW Stood By the Striking Coalminers And Repaid an Old Debt Of Solidarity

By JEFF STANSBURY
Solidarity Magazine

"It meant we could eat for a couple more days."

That, says Kathleen Kovack of Taylorville, Ill., is how UAW relief helped her family during the long, recently concluded coalminers' strike.

Notable for its length, militancy, and defiance of government attempts to break it, the 110-day strike was historic for its labor solidarity as well. From other workers across the country it drew a great surge of support. The first union to provide a major contribution to the embattled miners was the UAW, which announced a gift of $2 million as the federal government was urging a Taft-Hartley back-to-work injunction. Money, food, clothing, and political aid poured in from scores of other unions. Small farmers, themselves embattled, sent in milk and meat. Students took up collections.

Kathleen Kovack's husband, Joe, is a 46-year-old roof-belter at the Peabody No. 19 Mine near Pawnee, Ill. It is the largest slope-shaft soft coal mine in the world. He has worked there 26 years, and with Kathleen has raised a family of 11 children — five girls and six boys, the eldest now in college. The strike made it even harder.

"That UAW assistance came at the right time," says Kathleen. "The men had just voted down the first contract. None of us knew when the strike would end. Feeding all those kids on food stamps — well, we just weren't making it. And then we got a UAW surprise package of potatoes, oranges, beans, flour, canned goods, and macaroni — they never looked better!"

Neither Kathleen nor Joe Kovack can recall a similar wave of support for a coalminers' strike. It has left its mark on Taylorville. During Easter weekend, a severe ice storm hit the town, splintering its oaks and elms and knocking down power lines.

"Do you know what happened?" says Kathleen. "Everyone helped everyone else. People called the radio station, found out whose electricity had been out, and either invited them to move in or took food out to them. That kind of cooperation is a rare thing around here. I'm sure it came from all the solidarity shown during that strike."

The single most dramatic act of support for the embattled miners came on March 7, when the UAW's International Executive Board unanimously voted $2 million in hardship relief for the families of strikers and retirees. (Strikers drew no weekly benefits during their record 110-day walkout, and in some cases pensioners stopped receiving their retirement checks.)

Announcing the donation, UAW President Douglas A. Fraser stressed both the material and moral reasons for it.

"Thousands of people throughout the coalfields are enduring tremendous suffering as the coal strike goes into its fourth month," he said. "The United Mine Workers union stood with the UAW during some of our most difficult struggles. The miners under John L. Lewis supplied money and organizing help that was crucial to the survival and growth of the UAW in the 1930s. We haven't forgotten that."

The $2 million gift was sent to the UMW's relief fund in Washington, D.C. From there it fanned out to miners' district offices across the country. Before their sizeable donation reached the UMW's rank and file, however, similar contributions were pouring in from hundreds of UAW locals and other unions.

Typifying this worker solidarity was the two-mile-long caravan that wound through Martinsburg, W. Va., on March 12, ending in a mass rally at the Berkley Shopping Center. Over 1,000 cases of food, many bundles of clothing, and at least

$1,000 in cash were turned over to UMW district leaders from Virginia, West Virginia, and Kentucky. A large share of the donation was collected by UAW Local 1590 in Martinsburg, but several AFL-CIO Labor Councils, 20 individual unions, over 35 community organizations, and many student groups joined in. The rally ended with a stirring mass rendition of "Solidarity Forever."

"Whatever happens to the miners happens to all of us," Local 1590 President Jim Diehl told the caravanners, striking the clarion theme of the long strike. "The miners need the help of all working people."

Three days later a similar caravan journeyed from Chicago, to Springfield, Ill. In Chicago, the UAW, Steelworkers, Meatcutters, Clothing Workers, Teachers, and other unions had collected $30,000 worth of food. It was loaded into giant semis, trucked south, and unloaded into the pickups of miners waiting in Springfield. Accompanying the food was a $10,000 check for the UMW's Miners' Relief Fund. Like many other UAW regions, Region 4 took a major part in the campaign to aid the miners.

"We're only repaying our debt to the miners, who helped us in the 1930s with their leadership and economic sacrifices," said Region 4 Director Bob Johnston.

Johnston, whose father died of black lung disease, condemned the Carter Administration's threat to cut off miners' food stamps. "Any President who tries to starve out the miners doesn't know what other workers really care."

"We won't let it happen." And the UAW didn't.

Throughout the East and Midwest, in other cases far too numerous to note here, the UAW not only recognized but acted on its kinship with the struggling miners.

And the miners?

"We're still talking about the help we got from your folks," says George Krebel, President of UMW Local 9819. Krebel is a pump man at the huge Peabody No. 10 Mine. He's worked there 18 years.

"It's the first time I ever saw this type of support for the coal miners," Krebel continues. "Some of our families were desperate. They needed the food real bad. For others, the UAW's help was mainly a big boost to morale. It showed them that other workers really cared."

"We learned a good lesson," says UMW Local 9819 Vice President Bill Lahr. "Over on my side of the Peabody mine, lots of guys are saying we have to set up a UMW relief fund to help other unions when they need it."

In fact, many miners believe that organized labor will not survive long if individual unions, especially the largest ones, don't start pulling closer together. "The government and the big companies are trying to kill us off," says Lahr, "but we're still fighting among ourselves. If we don't start backing each other up, organized labor has had it." Some 500 miles to the east, in the West Virginia coalfields, a young miner agrees. "We got great help from the UAW," says Mike Zernick, who's worked eight years in Consolidation Coal's disaster-ridden mine at Mannington. "On top of that, our own ranks are solder than I've ever seen them. But we need even more solidarity now! This is a bad time for the working man and woman. The government's turned on us. Without labor solidarity from union to union, from top to bottom, we'll lose everything we've won in the last 40 years."

EDWARDSVILLE — The Edwardsville School District Board of Education voted Monday night to withdraw Edwardsville High School from competition in the Southwestern Conference effective following the 1978-79 school year.

Edwardsville, which becomes the second school this year to withdraw from conference play, Collinsville announced a similar decision recently.

Collinsville and Edwardsville are in Grant City South, which withdrew from the conference in 1977.

In 1973, as previously longstanding members to drop out of the conference.

In a recent Press-Record article, plans were revealed which stated Edwardsville, Grant City South, Cahokia and Belleville Althoff have considered forming a new league. Cahokia is still a member of the Southwestern Conference, but has considered dropping out.

Edwardsville High School principal Neil Schmechel said that he would not be a part of the new conference, but that he would be a part of the new conference.

been actively discussed for three years. "Granite City and Collinsville's dropping out probably gave us impetus to get out of the conference," he said. "But our own situation ultimately was what our decision was based upon."

Reasons for the withdrawal by Edwardsville were listed as: poor athletic facilities at Edwardsville (according to Schmelzel the worst outdoor facilities in the conference), declining enrollment at the

CHARLESTON—The fourth-year two-class IHSA State Track Meet will get underway here Friday and Saturday on the campus of the University of South Carolina, with several quad city thrillseals hoping to take home a share of the glory.

Senior will seek to become only the fourth school in the 94-meet history to win the state title to win all four of the team title straight years this weekend.

The only other school ever to win the state title in four straight years was Chicago Hills (Bloom), which won in 1956-57, 58-59, East St. Louis (Sr.), which won in 1960-61, and one of five schools to capture a trio in a row. Oak Park was the first in 1939-41. Next was the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (Bloom then won) its four straight and Evanston (Twp.) took the 1970-72 titles.

There will be field and running events in both classes will get under way at 9 a.m. The finals are scheduled to start at 11 a.m. The 100-yard final will be at 12:15 p.m. Saturday. Tickets, priced at $1.00, are on sale at O'Brien Stadium ticket windows each day approximately one hour before the start of the meet.

Included among the eight Granite City athletes is the Granite City North two-mile relay team of Glenn Edwards, Mike Baker, Mike Baker and Aaron Hickman.

South thunders at the state meet will be Bert Houston in the 800-yard race, the pole vault and Jay Heubner on the shot put. No North individuals qualified.

For Madison, Tim Colston qualified in both the long jump and triple jump. Sylvester Collins will be in the long jump, and the 100-yard race, the 200-yard run, Ernest Davenport jumped in the 400-yard run and the 440-yard relay team of Collins, James Heard, Davenport and White will be in the 440-yard relay.

Colston's long jump in the Red Bud District last weekend of 22 feet 4 1/4 inch was the fourth-highest in the Granite City Class A district competitor. His 43-11 in the triple jump was fifth-best.

Colston's 50.4 in the 440-yard dash placed him as the seventh fastest district competitor in the event.

The 440-yard relay team for the Trojans had a district time of :43.9 and was the third-fastest in the state at district level.

East St. Louis has eight of the ranking performances from among the Class AA district boys. Thorndridge posted seven of the top marks. The Flyers' Lloyd Pyle is No. 1 in the 220-yard dash with a :21.6 and Larry James is ranked No. 1 in the pole vault at 15-0. Thorndridge has the leader in the mile in John Sullivan at 4:14.6 and in the two-mile relay at 7:51.4.

While the batracians for the team title, though, the individual spotlight is expected to shine on Sycamore high jumper Gail Olson, the ranking prep high jumper in the nation. Olson, who went 7-3 last year to win the title in a state record, opened the indoor season with a leap of 7-5, posted the all-time outdoor Illinois best of 7-4 1/2 two weeks ago, and qualified for the State Final meet with a district leap of 7-5. With the right weather conditions, and with no pun intended, the sky could be the limit for Olson, who is a senior at the University of Illinois.

EAST ALTON — Granite City North's girls' softball playoff hopes ended here yesterday in the Wood River Regional when the first-year Steelerettes fell to East St. Louis struck for one run in the first inning when Taylor walked, McKinney grounded a single into right field, Davis walked and James was walked by Collins, forcing in Taylor.

The game was to have been originally played Tuesday at Wood River High School, but rain and wet grounds caused two postponements and finally the site change.

In the other regional game, Edwardsville won a 7-5 thriller from Wood River, setting up today's championship game between the Tigers and the Flyers at 4 p.m. At press time, the site of the game was to have been Van Praeter Park.

THINGS got worse for the Steelerettes in the Flyers' third.

Kim Collins then ripped a pitch to deep second and was called safe at first by the umpire. East St. Louis found the call a little hard to believe and in the confusion, forgot to call time out.

Hanfelder scored all the way from first on the play and Collins was the third.

North thus ends its season with a 4-3 record. "I think we did very well for the first year," said Holt. "We won some games very easily and had to fight in others."

'Softball history' to be made here

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY—A little bit of "softball history" will be made here this weekend when the Third Annual Metro-Granite City Women's Softball Tournament is held.

The reason "history" will be made is that it will mark the first time that a tournament uses an "expense money" format.

"This is the first tournament of its kind in the country," said

Casper Nighoghossian, organizer of the tournament.

"It'll be a $1,000 expense money tournament, with teams given money for participating in each level.

For instance, each team, win or lose, will receive $1,000 expense money in the first round. In the second round, each will receive $2, for the third round, $4, $8, for the semifinals $16 and each team in the championship game will receive $225. The entry fee for each team was $65.

The tournament will be highlighted by the appearance of the 1978 national champions, Sorrentos from Cincinnati, Ohio. They were the third place finisher in last national tournament in Pennsylvania.

Also in the tournament will be Sportprint, the 1977 St. Louis Metro Champions, Hecker, Ill., which finished second in the state tournament last season, and Bill's Auto Body of Granite City, the third place finisher in the state last year.

Two other Granite City teams are entered in the 16-team affair: Apple Valley and Sammy's. Sammy's is acting as the tournament host.

Other teams in the tournament are Rogers from Decatur, Highlanders from Louisville, Ky., Cunningham from Nashville, Tenn., Soartan Sporting Goods from St. Joseph, Mo., The Comanches from Collinsville, Huls from Champaign, Kinder Insurance from Springfield, Mo., the Belleville Whiz Kids and Scott Equipment from Chattanooga, Tenn.

Play will begin Saturday at 10 a.m. and will continue throughout the day at two Granite City sites, West Granite Park and Wilson Park.

Apple Valley meets Rogers in the 10 a.m. game Saturday at West Granite and the Comanches meet Huls at 11 a.m. in the first Wilson Park game.

At 11 a.m. at West Granite, Hecker will face the Highlanders, at noon, Sportprint will meet Cunningham. At 1 p.m., Sammy's will play Spartan Sporting Goods.

The other first round games at Wilson Park will be the Sorrentos at noon, The Whiz Kids vs. Jefferson's Royals at 1 p.m. and Bill's Auto Body vs. Scott Equipment at 2 p.m.

At 6 p.m. Saturday, the loser of the first West Granite game will face the loser of the second game. Also at West Granite Park, at 7 p.m., the losers of the other two West Granite games will meet. At 8 p.m., the loser of the first Wilson Park game will play the loser of the second Wilson game at West Granite Park. The other two Wilson Park losers will play each other at 9 p.m. in West Granite Park.

The winners of the first West Granite game will face each other at 3 p.m., also at West Granite. The second game winners will play at 4 p.m. The first Wilson Park winners will face each other at 4 p.m., also at Wilson Park. The second game winners will play at 5 p.m.

The losers of the final Wilson Park winner's bracket game will play the winner of the first losers' bracket game winner at 9 p.m. at Wilson Park. The loser of the 4 p.m. Wilson Park game will play the winner of the 7 p.m. West Granite game at 10 p.m. In the final game of the first day of action.

Play will continue throughout the weekend, with the championship game scheduled for either 8:30 or 9:30 p.m. Sunday at Wilson Park.

A freshman standout at SIUE...

Lady Cougar Chris Bugnitz holds Missouri state record in the mile

By KATHY SMALL
Among the record holders at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is freshman Chris Bugnitz, a standout member of the women's track and field team. Bugnitz, formerly of McCluer North High School, holds the Missouri state high school record in the mile run, at 5:11.09.

Bugnitz set the record-breaking speed when she captured first place in the mile run at the high school state tournament last year. "I knew it was my fastest time, but I didn't know it was going to be a record," said the mile. Her reaction? "I cried," she said.

In high school, Bugnitz started out as a sprinter. She felt she wasn't doing well, so she asked to be put in the mile and half-mile events her junior and senior year. Her favorite, she says, is the mile.

To build up endurance, Bugnitz runs a lot of quarter and half-mile and tries to set as fast a pace as she can during practice. At the beginning of the season with a time of 6:02, Bugnitz was far above her best time. "That really discouraged me, so I worked hard on speed during practice," she said.

Her fastest time this year in competition was 5:35 at the triangular meet at home April 29, but Bugnitz has consistently been far ahead of everyone else on the track. "My goal is under 5, but that is a little hard to set for myself," she admitted.

This season, in five meets, Bugnitz captured three firsts in the mile run, two firsts in the 800-yard run, two seconds in the half-mile, a third in the mile, and first in the 1,500-meter run at the Northern Illinois University Invitational, which was a meet record.

Bugnitz is not the only one on the team who has done well. The team has several talented individuals, many of whom have never been on an organized team before. "I'm surprised at the team's success. Usually a first-year team doesn't do too good," said Bugnitz.

She said she doesn't mind being on a first-year team. "I like to help build a team," she explained enthusiastically. According to Bugnitz, there is a tremendous amount of potential on the team, and she is looking forward to next year's season.

Bugnitz said there have been no problems sharing the track with the members of the men's track team. In fact, she said, the men have been very helpful by giving suggestions to the girls.

Another plus for the track team, according to Bugnitz, is head coach Lorraine Stark. "I admire anybody who would give all her time for a first-year team. She's helpful and enthusiastic," Bugnitz commented.

Bugnitz has great respect for any kind of athletic champion. "It fascinates me," she said, "how much work a champion puts into a sport, and how much you can drive your body to hurt."

Sports have always been a part of Bugnitz' life, and she gets satisfaction out of her performances. "After a race, you forget all the pain," she said.

Bugnitz, at 5'11", only competes in running events because she's "too short to do anything else." When she isn't running, she's writing. Bugnitz covers the activities of the women's track team for the Daily Alestie and enjoys all types of creative writing. "I want to keep writing as something I want to do, not have to do," said Bugnitz, who is as yet undecided on her major.

Bugnitz claims her main downfall as far as competing is concerned is nervousness. Before a meet, she involuntarily cries or gets sick. "If you have a good record, you always worry about what people are going to think," she said. "There's always the fear of coming in last in the mile," she continued, though in her case, it hardly seems possible.

The tiny miler practices two hours a day — a hard workout concentrating on speed build-up.

The national record in the mile run is 4:34, and Bugnitz thinks anyone can break it. "It's all a matter of where priorities lie — how much you want to sacrifice. I would like to sacrifice a whole lot," she said emphatically.

BLOOMINGTON — The man who the experts call "Mr. Track in Illinois," Roy Gummerson of Oak Park, has been named Honorary Referee for the 84th Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Boys State Track and Field Meet, scheduled for the weekend of May 26-27 at O'Brien Stadium on the campus of Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

Chairman of the Boys Track and Field advisory Committee and chairman of the Games Committee for the past dozen years, Gummerson retired from teaching and coaching last June, completing a 41-year career which included one year at Kinderhook High School (1936), 17 years at Peoria (Woodruff) (1937-54) and 22 years at Oak Park - River Forest (1955-77). He is the third man from Oak Park to be so honored, joining track and field immortals Robert S. Woodruff and Ross Anderson. A business and mathematics teacher by profession, but one of the most successful and astute track and field coaches and meet administrators in the nation by desire, Gummerson began his coaching career handling football, basketball and baseball at Kinderhook. When he moved to Woodruff, he assumed the duties in track and cross country and guided Woodruff to the 1952 state barrier title and the runnerup spot in 1954. He coached track and cross country at Oak Park - River Forest. His harrier teams finished in the top five in the State Meet 12 times. He is renowned for his administration of the annual Oak Park Relays and the Boys State High School Meet.

Boker and Backs headed for state tennis meet

BLOOMINGTON — Defending champion Hinsdale Central is one of five teams expected to challenge for the team title in the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Boys State Final Tennis Tournament this weekend in the Arlington Heights area.

MR. AND MRS. C. STANLEY SWIECICKI whose wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church. Formerly Miss Tamara Rachel Duff, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Duff, 3104 Willow Ave.

Quad-City Methodists plan June 26 concert

The "Continental Singers and Orchestra", currently on their yearly 75-day summer tour, will present a live 90-minute concert of contemporary Christian music on Monday, June 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the Nameoki United Methodist Church, Pontoon Road at Primrose Ave. This concert is being planned and presented by seven United Methodist Churches of the Tri-Cities: Trinity, Nameoki, Niedringhaus, Dewey Avenue, Good Shepherd, Madison and Venice.

Their performance includes contemporary gospel music, spirituals, anthems, and hymn arrangements. This year's program, entitled "Sing It With Love", will feature many of the most popular Christian songs being heard around the country, including Don Francisco's "He's Alive", "Give Them All to Jesus", Janny Grine's "Bread Upon the Waters", Larry Norman's "I Am Your Servant", Barry McGuire's "Communion Song", and a medley of praise choruses.

The 24 vocalists and 10-piece orchestra are highly trained and talented musicians selected by audition from thousands of high school and college-age young people from across the nation and in foreign countries. Auditions are held after each concert for future talent, it was announced.

The financing for this non-profit touring group is unique, in that each member raises part of his or her expenses on their own, with the remainder being supplied by local churches and organizations.

The program has proven so popular among young performers wanting to join the organization, and the more than 500 local sponsoring churches and organizations on the tour, that they have grown from one group in 1967 to nine.

ENGAGED. Miss Debra L. Bathon whose engagement to Merle L. Castellini is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bathon, 2031 Fifth St., Madison. A Nov. 25 wedding is planned.

Miss Tamara Duft weds C. Stanley Swiecicki

St. Joseph's Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding, May 13, of Miss Tamara Rachel Duft, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Duff, 3104 Willow Ave., and C. Stanley Swiecicki, son of Mrs. Sherry Swiecicki, 215 Wilson Park Lane.

Father G. Perret, M.S.F., officiated at the 10 a.m. double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with bouquets of spring flowers and greenery. Mrs. Cleta Judd provided the wedding music as she did for the bride's parents 30 years ago. Selections included "Ave Maria," "Lord's Prayer," "If We Only Have Love," and the "Wedding Prayer," sang by John Stanfill.

Exalted to the altar by her father the former Miss Duft wore a full length white organza dress with a Queen Anne neckline flowing into a caplet sleeve and back enhanced with Venice lace repeated on the Empire bodice and on the A-line skirt with chapel length train. She chose a matching lace and pearl bouffant veil.

Her nosegay included white silk roses, aqua forget-me-nots with lemon yellow pearl centers, white German statice, greenery, lace bows and streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Ginger Munoz. Bridesmaids were Jorja Aerne and Cindy Schultz who was a classmate of Miss Duft from St. Louis.

Each attendant wore an identical seaforn green polyester gown fashioned with crisscross bodice and chiffon caplets.

They chose large picture hats to complete their ensemble, and carried nosegays of lemon yellow silk roses, aqua flowers with white pearl centers, white German statice, greenery and springtime lace bows and streamers.

The groom chose Keith Huber as best man. Groomsmen were Michael Ashby and Chris Swiecicki, a brother of the groom. Escorting guests to their seats were Richard A. Duft, the bride's brother, and Keith Swiecicki, a brother of the groom.

A sit-down full course dinner and reception at noon was hosted at the ceremony at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville, by the bride's parents. Mrs. Sherry Swiecicki, the groom's mother, hosted a rehearsal dinner at Roustio's Restaurant in Collinsville, following the church rehearsal. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Duft selected a long sleeve peach Qiana floor length dress with a layered effect on the front of the gown and a full draped back. Mrs. Swiecicki, mother of the groom, was attired in a pale blue double knit floor length dress with Georgette sleeves and matching sleeveless coat. Both wore identical white silk wristlet corsages.

After a brief honeymoon the couple will make their home in Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. VERNON LUX. They were united in marriage in an evening ceremony at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Judine Marie Bruch, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Bruch, 2731 Michigan Ave.

(Granite Press)

Judine Bruch becomes Mrs. Vernon Lynn Lux

Miss Judine Marie Bruch, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Bruch, 2731 Michigan Ave., and Vernon Lynn Lux, a son of Mrs. William Lux, of Granite City, and the late James E. Lux, exchanged wedding vows on May 12, at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

Large ferns, brass urns with arrangements of spring flowers and burning tapers in branched candelabra provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 7 p.m. by Father James Neuman, and the Rev. William Roddy, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene.

Organist Leslie Houser accompanied Melanie Asadorian as she sang, "Annie's Song," "Evergreen," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father, which was illuminated with mint green candles in tiered candelabra, entwined with anthurus.

She chose a formal gown styled with an Empire waist and A-line skirt fashioned of Silista knit fabric. Imported silk Venice lace traced the high neckline, round yoke, hemline, train and adorned the long fitted sleeves which were tightly closed with tiny buttons at the wrists.

The bodice, neckline and sleeves were embellished with tiny pearls and crystal beads sewn in a flower motif and accented with Schiffli embroidery on inserts of fine net. Her fingertip veil of French illusion, edged with Venice lace, was secured to a lace covered camelot cap encrusted with pearls and she carried a formal cascade of pink cymbidium orchids surrounded by pink roses, staphanotis, baby's breath and greenery.

Maid of honor was Miss Denise Huebner and bridesmaids included Miss Carol Frey, Miss Barbara Little, Miss Nancy Barton, Miss Cathie Wilson and Miss Elaine Todoroff.

They were dressed alike in mint green floor length dresses designed with halter necklines and complemented with matching chiffon capes.

Each attendant wore a headpiece of staphanotis and baby's breath and they held a colonial bouquet of white daisies and mint green baby's breath encircled with greenery and Chantilly lace.

The president noted a dance will be held at the Township Hall with live music on Wednesday, May 31, from 1 to 4 p.m. A winner roast will be held on the grounds of the Township hall at noon Monday for the members, she added.

The next meeting of the group will be a June party, featuring a catered dinner, to be served at 12 noon at Anchorage costing $1 per person. This will be the final dinner until September, Mrs. Corbitt said.

Mrs. Corbitt reminded the members they can still fill out their circuit breaker papers. Those honored on their birthdays were John Winkmeier and May Findley. Games were played and prizes won by Ethel Stark, Lillian Gregory, Ruth Purkey, Tom Crawley, Gladys Filler, Minnie King, and Mrs. Corbitt.

Attending were members Barbara Jones, Donna Lane, Joan Pritchard, and mothers Alta Carpenter, Dorothy Stone and Virginia Pritchard, respectively, and Mrs. Carol Cathey and daughter, Laura Bittick and Miss Helen Hall.

After refreshments of fresh clove tea and gingerbread, the group toured the home and grounds. Later they met at The Old Homestead for dinner with other members and guests.

Schools to retain head-start program

A proposal that the Granite City Board of Education turn over its HeadStart pre-school program to the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission was withdrawn at a School Board meeting last week.

Action was taken on a recommendation by B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools; Dale Rea, assistant superintendent; and Mrs. Ruth Lahr, director of the pre-school program.

The Title I application to be submitted for 1978-79 will make provisions for a pre-school program, the board was advised.

A modified summer school program will be offered to Granite City students on a tuition basis again this year, as funds will not be available from the state to provide free classes.

Recommendations submitted by Frank L. Kraus, assistant superintendent, and approved by board members, lists a high school credit course at a cost of $25; high school band $10 per student; elementary and junior high band, $10 per student. Special Education on limited basis (reimbursable classes only) and vocational cosmetology program (reimbursed by the state).

The board members appointed Tully A. Heubner, director of public affairs, to prepare a tentative budget for the school district for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1979, and ending June 30, 1979.

A tentative budget will be given to the board for review beginning July 16, with a tentative budget submitted on Aug. 1.

If the tentative budget is adopted by the board Aug. 1, it will be available for public inspection after Aug. 3, and can be adopted on Sept. 5 if no adjustments are required.

Gifts accepted by the board members included those from Johnson School PTA, which included an IBM typewriter for office and teacher use, a cargo climbing net, $100 purchase of hand tools, $75 per teacher for purchase of instructional materials and games, two sections of Sico Portable Stage, fence to be installed between playground and road, and A Smith system lectern for a total cost of $4,750.

Parkview PTA donated $600 to the school for purchase of educational materials referred through Owen Humphrey; Emerson PTA agreed to purchase two basketball backboards to replace those presently in use on the playground at an approximate cost of $190; and Niedringhaus PTA was given permission to purchase an electric duplicating machine, five xylophones, one doll high chair, a camera and books from the book fair totaling $735.

COUNTRY STYLE

I Cor. 13:3 . . . "And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, I love, it profiteth me nothing."

There is a great need within the ranks of our churches today. It is not a need for more members, nor is it a need for larger sanctuaries, nor even for increased finances. There is a great need for LOVE. Genuine love . . . which is a true token of discipleship. Jesus tells us in John 13:35, "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if you have LOVE one to another." Remember always, that GOD IS LOVE.

The one factor in our world today which will break down the denominational walls and bring us all together in the unity of faith, is LOVE.

No matter how many good works we do . . . if not done in love, it profits us nothing.

Love someone. Today.

Prior to the installation, boys from Cub Scout Pack 109, sponsored by Lake School, presented the colors and led in the pledge to the flag. Those participating were Bruce Braswell, Ty Douglas, Chris Mehelic, Danny Phillips, and David Wilbers. Johnson then conducted a brief business session, during which time letters of appreciation to the PTA were read from Amy Siebert from a $25 savings bond she won in a "name the newsletter" contest, from David and Staretta Johnson for allowing them to represent Lake's PTA unit at the State PTA Convention in Chicago, from the sixth-grade classes for their field trip, and from various other students for the Spring Carnival.

Mrs. Betty Goforth, chairman of the Spring Carnival held on May 5th, reported the event was a success, then thanked all who helped her in various ways. Mrs. Phyllis Warford announced that an old-fashioned family-type picnic will be held at Wilson Park for board members and their families. A report on the state PTA convention which was held in Chicago on May 11-13th, was given by Johnson. He stressed that there is much to be learned from such a gathering that can be utilized by the local units, but felt that there was not enough representation from the southern part of the state. Following the installation, several teachers expressed their appreciation for the work done by the members of the PTA and for the many educational aids purchased by them for the school. Refreshments for this final meeting of the year were served by the teachers.

HERMAN DELALOYES ENTERTAIN GUESTS Mr. and Mrs. Herman Delaloye, 2693 Washington Ave., entertained houseguests in their home this week. Visiting the area for a week were sisters of Mrs. Delaloye, Mrs. Kathryn Langford of Yuciapa, Calif., and Mrs. Dorothy Stubbfield of Kansas City, Mo.

District Garden Clubs workshop

Fifteen garden-clubs of District V were represented at the workshop last week at the Edwardsville Moose Lodge, including Cahokia, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Fairview Heights, Green Oaks from Macoupin County, Holiday Shores, Lakeview of Collinsville, Mascoutah, Shiloh Valley, St. Clair County and Winstanley - both from Belleville, and three from Granite City - Cloverview, Gardenaires and Garden Study and the newest club Creative Gardeners of Jersey County.

The welcoming address was given by Mrs. James Thorp, president of Holiday Shores, the hostess club. The response was given by Mrs. William Lindsey, district vice-chairman and a welcome poem was read by Mrs. Arthur Buesch, district director. The tables were with African violets as centerpieces and miniature African violet arrangements in tiny clay pots as favors.

The awards received at the Chicago convention were given to the clubs. Mrs. Harold Wolfe presented a gift, from the board members, to Mrs. Fimis English, the director for the past two years.

The Edwardsville club will have their annual luncheon June 1, and they will be dedicating their blue star marker June 24, at the Cottonwood Bank. Other activities scheduled for later in the year will be St. Clair County and Mascoutah flower show Sept. 22, at St. John's United Church of Christ at Mascoutah and the Lakeview Garden Club flower show Oct. 28.

Dorothy McMullen gave instructions on how to make a book of evidence when applying for an award. She is a good authority on this subject since she won a cash award last year with her book on her yard, it was noted.

Mrs. Henry Heberer, program chairman, was in charge of the flower arranging program with some of the top arrangers in the district demonstrating their favorite type of arrangement: Mrs. Kenneth Rank - an arrangement for a church, using fresh plant material; Miss Leah Kolbusch - abstract arrangements; Virginia Kaufhold - free form or free standing; Mrs. Arthur Buesch - Japanese arrangements and Mrs. Heberer - free style. Mrs. William Klutz completed the workshop with instructions on making up the yearbook, with special emphasis on the Cahokia book that was sent to national this year for competition.

The workshop is the meeting of the year for a fun and fellowship day, with everyone bringing their favorite potluck dish for everyone else to sample.

Baby shower fetes

Mrs. Diana Ryan

A baby shower was given at the Chouteau Township Hall honoring Mrs. Diana Ryan by Jo Ann Tindall and Jane Wilson. Bud vases holding a pink and blue daisy centered the tables which were decorated with pink and blue streamers, for the social event.

Guest present were mother of the guest of honor, Mrs. Polly Tindall, sisters Sherry and Leslie Tindall and Carrie Ryan, her mother-in-law.

Others included Lorraine Pavia, Sue Pavia, Carla Strong, Tammi Lupard, Maureen Ryan, Rosemary Jones, Elaine Hacker, Gerl Flak, Linda Schermer, Rhonda Painter, Karen Huff, Debbie Scroggins, Melody Winfield, Stacy Winfield, Sue Reinhardt, Carol Reinhardt, Janet DeRousse, Karen DeKousse, Eunice Winfield, Barbara and Wendy Winfield, Stephanie Ryan, Shirley Ryan, Mrs. Katzman and Coral Robinson.

BECKY COPELAND, a seventh-grade student at St. Elizabeth School, holds a $10 prize she received as second-place contestant in an essay contest. The project was sponsored by the Madison County Farm Bureau.

GRANITE CITY STEEL 1878 1978

Clockwise from the top left — Intense heat and light during visit to the basic oxygen furnace; wastewater treatment plant controls are explained; a car to transport hot metal from coke ovens to the basic oxygen furnace; 100th anniversary visitors' view of the hot strip mill; product displays include trucks and loaders; ingot is withdrawn from soaking pit for conversion into a slab; and fiery excess material is shoveled away from a coke oven door.

1st female

Conalco the dominant employer in the Madison-Venice area. Throughout the jurisdiction of the Steelworkers, few sectors remain that have not already felt the involvement of women, either as new hires or in apprenticeship programs.

But, according to members of USWA Local 4804, they have the United States' first woman roller on an aluminum mill in their midst.

This fact is corroborated by the USWA.

Sheila runs No. 4 mill at Conalco with a sureness required on a 66-inch cold rolled processing mill.

She and her assistant roller, Danny Smith of Granite City, head the four-man crew and work all three shifts.

Under the United Steelworkers contract with Consolidated Aluminum, Sheila decided to bid for the top paying roller's job about three months ago.

She got it, despite having only one year's seniority at the Madison plant, and stepped in as roller two weeks ago.

"I knew I could handle it, and no one with more seniority bid on the job," she explains.

She started out as a utilityman, sweeping floors and doing odd jobs in the casting department, became an assistant roller on No. 6 mill, which rolls 18-inch wide magnesium, then to No. 5, a 36-inch mill and later to the 66-inch mill — No. 4.

The young woman, slightly built and only five feet four inches tall, gets along with her co-workers and has not experienced any negative attitudes since becoming a roller.

"They just treat me like one of the guys," she said.

Sheila controls the surging strip of metal, traveling 2,000 feet per minute, with a steady hand and cool head, until the 11,000-pound gleaming coil rests on the conveyor line.

No. 4 mill reduces the aluminum to gauges ranging from .250 to .017, the latter only slightly thicker than aluminum foil.

Sometimes a No. 4 coil goes to annealing and then is returned to be even further reduced on the mill.

Her eyes must keep a careful watch on a large instrument panel, stacked with knobs, handles, dials and buttons.

"On the dials, she explains, 'you can see the roll force, the speed of the strip and watch the gauge levels on the flying micrometer.'"

Meanwhile, her left hand operates a "screw down" to reduce the material being processed, while her right hand moves to a control which activates a coil car underneath the mill.

She wears large safety glasses and cumbersome-looking gloves. Her long black hair is tucked securely under her cap, mostly to keep her hair free of grease.

Sheila graduated from Granite City High School South and became a licensed beauty operator through the school district's Extended Classroom program.

Before joining Consolidated Aluminum in April 1977, she worked for 4½ years as a knife blade testing technician at Busman Fuse Co. in St. Louis.

In her new job at the Madison plant, she is earning almost double the salary she received in St. Louis.

Sheila comes by her rolling instincts and adaptability to life in an industrial plant quite naturally.

Her maternal grandfather, an experienced steel roller in Indiana, was brought to Granite City in 1900 to roll steel on Granite City Steel's new mill. He stayed for 38 years.

Her paternal grandfather, Thomas Buckingham, also deceased, was a millwright for 32 years at Granite City Steel.

Sheila's father, Rex Buckingham of Edwardsville, is a feeder in the hot roll finishing department at Granite City Steel, and an older brother, Rick, works with his dad as a stocker in hot roll finishing.

Another older brother, Keith Buckingham, is a shipping clerk at Precast Metals, a division of Chromalloy Corp., St. Louis.

The new roller's stepfather, Lester "Smoky" Spray, 2335 Lincoln Ave., is a coil finisher in the diesel room at Granite City Steel.

And family ties to the steel industry go on. An uncle, James C. Mount, works in the hot strip at Granite City Steel, another uncle, Victor Mount, is a retired GCS crane operator in the open heart, and a third uncle, Irvin Mount, who died in 1971, was employed in the diesel room at Granite City Steel plant.

Away from the job, the diminutive roller (five feet, four inches tall and 115 pounds) is a very feminine person, but, also, very sports minded.

She is left handed and plays a good first base for the G&G Car Wash softball team in the Granite City Park District's slow pitch league. She's been a softball player for seven years, starting in high school.

The stereotyped image of a typical mill roller — big, burly and tough-looking — is dead.

Sheila Buckingham put him away.

Two hurt in Rt. 270 crash

Kenneth Allen Ruff, 22, Jennings, Mo., was seriously injured when his westbound car went out of control, crossed the median of Interstate 270 and collided with two eastbound cars about one and one-fourth mile east of the state line. A passenger in one of the cars also was injured.

Ruff was trapped in his Volkswagen and emergency crews had to remove him. He suffered numerous injuries, including fractures to his left leg and left forearm, a cut near his right eye and abrasions to his chest and stomach.

He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted.

State police said Ruff's auto veered through the median and into the eastbound passing car, where it sideswiped the auto of Charles R. Lynn, Edwardsville, and then struck the eastbound car of Paul J. Fuller Jr., Wood River, nearly head-on.

Vicky Fuller, 22, of Wood River, a passenger in Paul Fuller's car, also was taken by ambulance to the hospital where she was treated for an abrasion to her left lower leg and a cut to her forehead. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Marriage vows were exchanged by Mrs. Helen Maczura Thomas and Benjamin Danz on Saturday, May 20, in the home of the groom. Attending the couple were the bride's sister, Miss Mary Zschock and James Dale her son-in-law, as best man. A buffet luncheon was served after the ceremony attended by members of the immediate families. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Warren Maczura, Mr. and Mrs. James Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dale, Mrs. Robert Lydens, Miss Sophia Werth, Father Tom Barrett, and Mrs. Bert Norris, the groom's sister. National Steel Inc. in 1977 amounted to $82,165,000. The Hubbell Metals organization will be operated as part of National Steel's service center organization. National Steel Service Center, Inc., a subsidiary of National Steel Corporation, presently operates 26 metals distribution centers throughout the Midwest, East and South, and a strip rolling mill in Pennsylvania. "For us, this latest acquisition is another example of our further commitment to the service center industry and to the markets it serves," commented George A. Stinson, chairman of National Steel. "Simply put, we believe that the Hubbell product mix and processing capabilities mesh well with our existing service center organization in terms of geography, products and services. "This is especially true of flat-rolled products, for which we are well known." Hubbell's product line includes carbon and stainless steels, aluminum, copper and brass. It offers these products in sheet, coil, plate, pipe tubing, rod, bar, shapes and expanded metal. Its processing capabilities include slitting, cutting to length, shearing, sawing and flame cutting. The Hubbell product mix is primarily flat-rolled steel and aluminum, similar to that of National Steel Service Center, Inc. However, this marks the initial distribution of a brass and copper product line for National Steel Service Center, Inc., which is headquartered in Wayne, N. J. BALL DAMAGES DRYER Someone took a bowling ball from a storage locker at the Parkside Apartment complex, 2220 Parkside, and placed the ball in a dryer, destroying the machine's interior, Thomas Scott, manager reported during the weekend. Screening around the storage area was pushed in to get the ball, he said.

WILLIAM GRIGGS

Resigns as Venice treasurer

William E. Griggs, 67, a Venice city official for the past 29 years, resigned his office as city treasurer during the regular meeting of the Venice City Council Tuesday night.

In a letter of resignation Griggs, who lives at 1030 Market St., Venice, told council members that he no longer can devote "the time needed to handle the duties properly."

Griggs was elected city treasurer in April 1977 after serving 12 years as a city health inspector and building inspector.

Prior to that, from 1949 until 1965, Griggs was an alderman of the Venice Fourth Ward.

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold told Griggs, who attended Tuesday night's meeting, "You will be a great loss to us. You have contributed much and we will miss you."

Ebersold instructed the city attorney to prepare a resolution commending Griggs for his service to the city, and said a plaque will be prepared in recognition of the work he has done for the city.

In the same meeting, Attorney Larry Hartman was appointed by the council as assistant city attorney to serve in place of his brother Harry Hartman, Venice city attorney who has been hospitalized following a heart attack.

Larry Hartman said his brother is recuperating and expects to return home Monday. "But he will have to rest for a while," Hartman said.

KIRKPATRICK BURGLARY Items valued at about $450 were taken during a burglary at the apartment of Dale Stogdale, 3707 Kirkpatrick Homes, which occurred Monday.

Stogdale was reported to police Wednesday morning. The front door was forced open and the apartment was ransacked. Taken were a $110 television set, a $35 clock-radio, 50 record albums worth about $300, and $110 worth of food stamps.

Pre-holiday picnic tips by Ill. health department

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

Every year, when the weather gets warm, thousands of Illinois families leave the clean, cool comfort of their homes and trek to the park or the woods to eat a meal in the dusty summer heat, and share their food with flies, ants and other outdoor creatures. This phenomenon is called "having a picnic."

Seriously, we all enjoy a picnic. It's a welcome change of pace and an opportunity to enjoy the outdoors. The Illinois Department of Public Health, however, reminds us that, when we picnic, we usually leave behind our modern forms of food protection, such as cooking and refrigeration, and enjoy our food under conditions which may lead to food poisoning.

The state health department says the basic rule to avoid food poisoning is, "keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold."

"In other words, do not let potentially hazardous foods reach that intermediate temperature at which microorganisms grow best—between 45 and 140 degrees Fahrenheit."

What are the potentially hazardous picnic foods? Some of the more common ones are potato salad, deviled eggs or egg salad, sandwich fillings, meat salad or other foods prepared by hand. These foods should be cooled immediately after they are prepared, and should be kept cool until it's time to eat.

Hot, creamed or scalloped dishes—especially those made with milk, eggs, starch or flour—should be cooked just before picnic time and kept covered and piping hot until served. Any meat, fish or poultry pre-cooked for salads or sandwich fillings or for eating cold (such as fried chicken) should be cooled quickly after cooking, and kept cool until eaten. Preparing or eating these foods while they are still warm, are practices which invite dangerous bacterial growth.

Any food which requires preparation with the hands is easily contaminated, particularly if the person preparing the food is spreading Salphyllocooccus organisms through cuts, sores or boils on the hands or arms, or is coughing or sneezing over the food. Contamination cannot be seen, tasted or smelled; but, if the bacteria is on the food, it takes just three to five hours at room temperature (not that long in the hot sun) to fill the food with poisonous toxin.

Persons who eat the food will feel the effects two to four hours later, when they experience the abrupt and often violent feelings of nausea, cramps, vomiting, diarrhea and prostration.

Lemonade and other acid drinks stored in improper containers are another hazard to picnickers. Containers made of antimony, zinc, cadmium or lead may be sources of food-borne illness if the acid in the drink erodes the container so that the poisonous metals are dissolved.

One other point to remember when picnicking is that the possibility of being bitten by a rabid animal is a serious threat, especially during extremely hot weather.

Rabies can be transmitted to people through the bite of an infected skunk, fox or bat which wanders into picnic areas, or a cat or dog which may be attracted by the noise and activity of an outing.

Infected animals usually show a change in disposition and habits. Wild animals may show no fear of humans, while domestic animals may want to be left alone.

It is not natural for a fox, skunk, bat or other wild animal to move around near people, especially in the daytime.

Children, especially, should be warned not to go near strange animals, whether at home or in the great outdoors.

While officers were preparing a report on the theft, several persons approached and said a boy was attempting to sell a wristwatch in the 2600 block of Lincoln Avenue.

Police searched for the boy, finding him in the Charles Street parking lot of Kirkpatrick Homes. He was taken to the police station and allegedly admitted stealing the watch. He took a detective back to the parking lot where he was arrested and showed him the watch, hidden in a tree.

Suggests CETA pay some Venice ambulance bills

Venice Alderman John Ervin at the Venice City Council meeting Tuesday night called for the Madison County Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program to give the City of Venice $15,000 to help with ambulance services there.

Granite City is getting $150,000 a year from the Madison County CETA program for the ambulance program. I think they can give us at least $15,000 or $20,000 to help our people pay ambulance bills. I think we should just send any bills we get right to the County Board and let them pay them."

The discussion arose when Alderman Ervin asked if Madison County had replied to Venice inquiries about a Madison County operating a countywide ambulance service.

It was reported that the county has made no response to the Venice inquiries.

It was noted by Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley that the service provides Venice citizens' bills must be paid by the people, and that many are UNCOUPLING MISHAP James F. Beach has filed a two-count suit which seeks $15,000 in each count from the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis. He alleges that on Feb. 8, while he was a switchman, he was assessing in uncoupling two engines and the couplings malfunctioned, injuring him.

Recalls early history of Indy 500

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

This week, Tom Stevens won the pole position in the Indy 500 qualifying trials with a four-lap speed of 202.156 mph and a record breaking one-lap run of 203.620 mph.

Sunday's prestigious 500 mile race in Indianapolis, the 42nd running of the famous Indy 500, is a far cry from the first race at the Speedway in 1911.

According to Ray Nugent of Ashmore, Ill., the father of two Granite City men, the average speed was about 60 mph then, and the winner was clocked at 74.59 mph.

Mr. Nugent, a retired brakeman, worked in the Madison yards for Norfolk and Western railroad until "they had to kick me off."

He retired just 12 years ago at age 81. Many in this area will remember him as "Pop" Nugent.

"Pop" became part of the Indy 500 history when he rode as a mechanic in the qualifying race at the Speedway's first 500-mile event in 1911.

"Everybody was working on cars back then," Mr. Nugent recalls.

"I rode with a Frenchman named Hughie Hughes. I don't think the car that Hughes drove had a name and there was pretty near nothing to sit in ... just a chassis."

"But they fixed it up so I could ride in it with Hughes," he said.

Mr. Nugent's friend, Johnny Snyder, drove in the actual 500-mile race.

"Ray Harroun won it, being clocked at 74.59 mph," Mr. Nugent said.

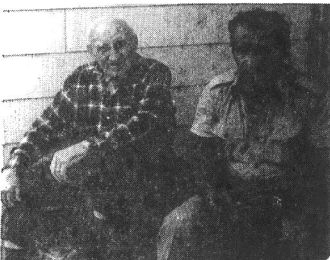

"I knew all the drivers back then," he added.

Mr. Nugent has an excellent memory, his family reports.

"He recites poetry, maintains a three-bedroom home by himself and does the yard work," his son, Jack Nugent of Granite City, reports.

Mr. Nugent also drives his car around the town of Ashmore.

His wife, Clea, died in 1970 and he has continued to live and REMINISCING about the first Indianapolis 500 race in 1911 is 93-year-old Ray Nugent of Ashmore, Ill., left, who rode as a mechanic in the qualifying trials. He is a retired brakeman in the Madison railroad yards. His son, Jack Nugent of Granite City, visits on his father's birthday.

maintain their home in Ashmore, where he was born in 1884.

He is the father of Jack and Bob Nugent, both of Granite City. Ronald Nugent of Paris, Ill., Mrs. Linda Crawford and Mrs. Jeanette Hood, both of Ashmore, and Mrs. June Swigger of Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. Nugent has 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren, and many nephews and nieces.

His nephews and nieces, with other family members, are great fans of the Indy 500 and will be in the grandstands the day of the race.

Mr. Nugent refers to the traditional race as "Where the finishers conquer the survival of the fittest."

He still is very interested in the outcome of the Indy 500, but Mr. Nugent no longer attends the race itself.

Just as many famous Indy drivers, Mr. Nugent has made his own mark in the annals of Speedway history and his memories of that first great race are rekindled each May.

"Gentlemen. Start your engines ...," still brings him a feeling of pride.

At Monday night's Nameoki Township Board of Trustees meeting, Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a Democratic Precinct Committeewoman, said the people in that area are "living in fear" and are afraid to go out at night in the darkness.

It was noted that a portion of Morrison Road is in Chouteau Township and petitions are being circulated to ask the highway commissioners of both Chouteau and Nameoki townships for aid in obtaining Miss Stevenson was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted with abrasions to her left hip and right ankle.

Granite City rabies clinic
A rabies clinic will be conducted by the staff of Bellemeor Animal Hospital at the Granite City humane shelter on Route 3, one-quarter mile south of A.O. Smith, on Wednesday, June 5, from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

All pet owners of Granite City may take their pets to the clinic for the yearly rabies shot required by local and state laws.

Pets four months or older are required to be immunized, a spokesman said.

Rabies shots are $5 for all pets.

Rape case spurs move for street lights in Nameoki

Due to a recent abduction and rape on Morrison Road at the Alton and Southern Railroad tracks in Nameoki Township, township residents are asking the Nameoki trustees for help in having street lights installed in that area.

May 7, a 22-year-old Granite City woman was abducted and raped and her friend from Caseyville was shot after a man with a pistol came to their car, waiting for a train, and ordered the two and another Granite City woman with them to get out of the car and disrobe.

He then shot the Caseyville woman in the right hand and she and another woman were told to run from the scene. The 22-year-old was forced into the car, and the man drove her from the scene.

Later he put her in the trunk of the auto and drove to East St. Louis where he raped her and then left her, according to police reports.

At Monday night's Nameoki Township Board of Trustees meeting, Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a Democratic Precinct Committeewoman, said the people in that area are "living in fear" and are afraid to go out at night in the darkness.

street lights.

Trustee W. Lee Adams noted that trains frequently block the Morrison Road crossing for long periods, creating a dangerous situation at night.

Mrs. Hawkins said she already has written the Alton & Southern Railroad, asking them to consider putting lights at the crossing.

One man in the audience said he thought residents of Morrison Road had been asked to join the Bellemeor-Manor Street Light District, but had declined. He said he did not feel it fair for the township to pay for lights for some, while others are paying taxes to support a street light district.

Highway Commissioner Frank Mehele said he has had some lights installed in hazardous areas, but said, "It was with the thought that these people would eventually join a street lighting district and free that money to be used for installing lights in other areas."

Mrs. Hawkins noted the state should be asked to provide lighting at the crossing of Morrison and Maryville roads, which is a hazardous crossing, she contended.

Flood water or temporary pool mosquitoes are emerging in record numbers and will continue as long as spring rains and local water puddles occur.

They are good flyers and can travel as much as four miles a night for a total distance of 10 to 20 miles.

Flood water mosquitoes do not transmit St. Louis Encephalitis and generally do not present a health problem to man. But this mosquito does transmit heartworm to dogs.

Here are some suggestions for mosquito control in your home and yard.

Indoors, use the plastic resin strips containing 20 percent dichlorvos (DDVP) in every room. These strips will kill mosquitoes and flies for several weeks.

Do not use these strips in kitchens or other areas where food is exposed or in rooms where infants or ill or aged persons are confined.

Around the patio, spray the shrubs, vines, under porches, and tall grass with malathion. Time your applications for the afternoon of important evening events.

For camping trips, fishing trips and hikes in the country, use rub-on or spray-on repellents.

One of the most effective mosquito repellents is DEET (diethyltoluamide). One of its trade products is OFF.

Iris borers are fat caterpillars that will finally destroy an entire planting of bearded iris.

Garden plantings of bearded iris begin to turn yellow and wilt in June when iris borer attacks an entire planting. Pencil-sized caterpillars nearly 1 1/2 inches long are easily found in the rotting rhizomes or pupating in the soil near the tunnels.

Iris borer eggs spend the winter on old iris leaves and hatch as new leaves develop in the spring.

During the blossom time, the larva produce yellow lines in the leaves as they move toward the main stalk and the rhizome.

One application of diathene (cygon) during bloom will eliminate the borers in the leaves. Avoid killing bees and beneficial insects by concentrating on the leaves.

Add a small amount of liquid detergent to the spray mix to improve coverage on leaves.

STEAL DUCK, EGGS
A female mallard duck with 15 eggs, worth $50, was stolen from a locked pen in the rear yard of the Ralph Conners home, 2850 Harding Ave., it was reported during the weekend.

Mountain exploration during June

The SIUE department of earth science, geography and planning is sponsoring a field course during the summer quarter. Titled Mountain Northwest Exploration, it will take place June 10-25.

The first section, ESC 1450, will study landscapes and rocks — a geological field study of South Dakota, Montana, Yellowstone Park and Wyoming. Included are explorations of the glaciated and unglaciated Great Plains, Badlands-type erosion, the Black Hills Dome, Pegmatite, fossil fuel deposits and hot springs phenomena. Collecting and field techniques will be emphasized.

The second section, ED EL 433c, will be an environmental education program to explore physical and cultural aspects of the mountainous Northwest. Students will camp at national parks, monuments and cultural locations. Emphasis will be placed on geological and natural history relationships, as well as mankind's impact on these features.

Each section will provide four hours' credit, with geology credit optional in the second section. Prerequisite is by consent of the instructor, and there is a class limit of 25.

All travel will be via van. Tents will be provided, and food are the responsibility of participants. Cost is $150, plus tuition, per person and a $75 deposit is due by June 1.

Dorothy Gore (692-2090) and Bob Williams (692-2675) have information.

90-DAY JAIL TERM
Larry D. Johnson, 19, of 54 Greiner House, Madison, has been sentenced to three years of probation and 90 days in the Madison County Jail after pleading guilty to a Dec. 21, 1977, burglary. The sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr.

Mrs. Barbara Haddock, president of the Granite City Area Council PTA's presented Lori Clement with the PTA award.

Jay Heubner and Tom Mahl were honored for receiving West Point appointments, and Barry Briggs was honored for his appointment to the United States Air Force Academy.

The Association of the United States Army award went to Robert M. Rongey.

Train your tomato plant

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Gardener Adviser

For the best in tomato quality, train your plants to stakes, cages or other systems that keep fruit off the ground.

Fruit from supported vines are better because they have less soil rot, are cleaner, and are exposed to more sunlight. They are also easier to spray, pick and sell.

There are several ways to train tomato plants. The most common method is to set a stake beside each plant. This stake should be 5 to 6 feet long and 1 to 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Drive it into the ground at least 10 inches.

When the plants are 12 to 15 inches high, remove all but one main stem and tie it loosely to the stake. Use soft twine or cloth.

As the plant grows, remove the shoots or "suckers" that develop between the main stem and the leaves up to the first fruit cluster.

Above the first fruit cluster, let the shoots develop two leaves and then pinch off the tips. Tie the plant loosely to the stake every 10 to 12 inches.

If the pruning and tying system is not for you, try growing them in a cage.

The ideal cage is made from concrete reinforcing wire. It is rigid and the 6-inch holes are large enough to get most of the ripe tomatoes through. A 6-foot length of wire will make a cage about 2 feet in diameter and 5 feet high, or, if cut in half, two cages 2 1/2 feet high.

Set this over the plant and anchor with a steel post or stake to prevent tipping over. With the short cage, the post is not needed. Mulch around the plant with straw before installing the cage.

A tomato plant with good vigor will grow up and over the top of the cage. No pruning is necessary. All fruits will be off the ground and of good quality.

For best results, water as needed, and follow a spray program for disease control.

LOVE LOAVES, a project to combat hunger in the world, is collected at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church at a Sunday Morning service. The program closed with members of the congregation contributing a total of $1,053 to be donated to the needy. Collecting the containers are from left, Andy Pierson and Gene Scroggins.

Nameoki Presbyterian aids disaster areas

On the final day of a two month long project to combat hunger, families of the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, broke open more than 60 "Love Loaves," spilling out hundreds of pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters.

The project was initiated by the church as a means to help feed starving people in the world's disaster areas. Rev. Don Pierson, pastor of the congregation, explained that the Love Loaves are small containers in the shape of a loaf of bread. Families in the church had placed the Love Loaf containers on their dinner tables as prayer reminders of the project, and were encouraged to contribute coins toward famine relief.

Sunday's breaking ceremony yielded $1053.11, an average of $17.55 per loaf. According to Rev. Pierson, the proceeds will be used to fight hunger in disaster areas of the world through various organizations. The church will send 30 percent of the money to the Presbyterian "One Great Hour of Sharing" for missionary work, and another 30 percent for local community hunger needs.

Fly-up ceremony at Wilson Park

Members of Brownie Troop 264 and Junior Girl Scout Troop 619 of Lake School met last week at Wilson Park with their leaders, Mrs. Betty Goforth and Mrs. Shirley Strain.

A "fly-up" ceremony was held at which time Mrs. Strain accepted as Junior Girl Scouts Amy Siebert, Christine Mangiaracino, and Cindy Jeffries. Each of the girls was presented her Girl Scout pin and wings, representing her having "flown up" to Juniors.

Junior Girl Scouts welcoming them into their troop were Amy Hester, Debbie Strain, Joetta Horvath, Gina Deckard, Jody Gravelle, Beverly Goforth, Vicki Sherry, Rhonda Goforth, and Sally Smith.

Other Brownies in attendance were Pam Sherry, Toni Goforth, Lori Richmond, Kairina Fenner, Beth Poelon, Kathy Reynolds, Beth Callahan, Becky Asbeck, Missy Petrus, Julie Austin, and Becky Butten. Following the ceremony, a wiener roast was enjoyed by those mentioned and Mrs. Mary Sherry, Mrs. Betty Jo Horvath, and Mrs. Faye Hester.

Junior Bay View attends theater

A trip to the Plantation Dinner Theater to see the play, "Everybody Loves Opal" starring Martha Raye, provided the final meeting of the Junior Bay View Reading Club, for the current season.

Those attending were Mesdames Alice Hunsinger, Mildred Jungels, Marguerite Lexow, Ann Little, Peggy Koerper, Clova Taylor, Marge O'Neill, Olga Tarpoff, and two guests, Melba Tarpoff and Velda Taylor. The club will resume their monthly meetings in October, it was announced.

MADISON FUTURE SECRETARIES, honored at an awards banquet held at Ralph and Charlie's Restaurant. Miss Tina Windle, center, was named winner of the "Miss FSA" award, and runner-up was Averly Dandridge, left. The Junior FSA honor was given to Debbie Sutt, right, during the final event of the organization for the current school year.

MITCHELL PTA OFFICERS elected to serve for the 1978-79 school year at the final meeting of the organization held last week. From left, Carol McNeely, treasurer, Carole Meyer, secretary, Judy Thomason, president, Mary Whitehead, first vice-president, and Arthur Menendez, second vice-president, and school principal.

Mrs. Schoen regent of Drusilla Andrews

Mrs. Emma Schoen was installed over the weekend as the 29th regent of the Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution. For the past several years, Mrs. Schoen has been serving as the registrar and lineage chairman of the local chapter.

The new regent, an amateur genealogist, holds membership in the genealogical societies of St. Louis, St. Clair County, Montgomery County, and the Illinois State Society. She also is a member of the Sangamon River Chapter of the National Society U.S. Daughters of 1812 and a member of the Historical Societies of Monroe County, Madison County, and Macoupin County.

Before her retirement a few years ago, Mrs. Schoen was a teacher in the Granite City school district. She taught the first grade at Liberty School "behind the mill" for three years and was at the Frohardt School for 13 years. At the present time she does volunteer work for the Church Women United in their tutor for friends in learning program.

Mrs. Schoen provides additional volunteer services by being a driver for the Cancer Society and by assisting in the Mobile Meals delivery program. Other volunteer duties include working in the St. Louis Genealogy Society Library in University City, as a monitor and helping with vacation bible school.

She presently holds offices in the Ann Rutledge Rebekah Lodge No. 47, I.O.O.F.; the Lavonne Chapter No. 35 O.E.S. of Litchfield; the Granite City Chapter of the American Association of University Women; and the Madison County Unit III of the NRTA (Retired Teachers).

Mrs. Schoen is a member of the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church and Philathea Class as well as the Hilltoppers Club of St. John's United Church of Christ. An avid traveler and a member of Travelers' Abroad, Mrs. Schoen is planning another European trip into her busy schedule for 1980. Within the past month she has returned from Washington, D.C. where she did genealogical research for a week.

MRS. EMMA SCHOEN
DAR Regent

She has two married children, Mrs. Nancy Emahiser of Granite City, and James Schoen of Mesa, Ariz., and several grandchildren.

Assisting Mrs. Schoen for the next two years with the DAR program of work will be Mrs. Ruth McCarty, vice regent; Mrs. Margaret Bell, treasurer; Mrs. Eva Meier, chaplain; Mrs. Lucille Butler, registrar; Mrs. Barbara Williams, secretary; and Miss Nolle Hart, historian and librarian, all of whom were installed by Mrs. Janet Wilson, outgoing regent.

During this last meeting of the season, members heard a brief review of the history of the chapter by Mrs. Wilson and interesting facts about the National Society presented by Miss Ella Ray Smith. At the present time the DAR is proud to have approximately 207,000 members. Since its inception in 1890, there have been over 600,000 women who have qualified for this organization.

Mrs. Butler was congratulated by the group for her membership record of 25 years.

Guests present were Mesdames Helen Wansholt, Nancy Turner, and Reale Starr, and members Mesdames Florence Simpson, Helen Gantcheff and Bertha Schoen.

SPECIAL ACHIEVEMENT AWARD for sustained superior performance on his job as a crater foreman at Scott AFB is presented to Vincent E. Courtois, 723 Brown St., Venice, right, by Lt. Col. William J. Caffery, department commander for resource management. Courtois has worked for the government 28 years and formerly was assigned to the Granite City Army Installation.

Nameoki to appeal suit

Nameoki Township trustees pledged Monday night to continue a legal fight to recover a total of $9,598 they contend was paid illegally to the family of former Nameoki Supervisor Louis Whitsell.

The original suit filed to recover the money was dismissed by Associate Judge Clayton Williams early this month. Williams ruled that money paid to Whitsell's wife, Dell, while she was employed as a part-time caseworker for general assistance purposes was paid by the state and not the township.

Therefore, even if it was found that the payments were not authorized expenditures, it would be the obligation of the state to file suit to recover the money, and not the township, the court held.

The state has asked the township to refund the $9,598 to general assistance, which is supported by the Illinois Department of Public Aid. That department asserts it notified Whitsell repeatedly that there was no need for a part-time general assistance caseworker, and that, therefore, the payments to Mrs. Whitsell were not authorized from state funds.

Whitsell has shown a copy of a letter he received from the Department of Public Aid which suggests he may continue to hire his wife, but mark her salary as "unauthorized" until further notice.

Whitsell said his wife worked constantly for the township, most without any pay, and that she earned all of the money paid her from general assistance. He branded the attempts to recover the money as "sheer politics."

At Monday night's town board meeting, Trustee W. Lee Adams said the original lawsuit was "thrown out" because the state had not held back any money to the township. He said the state has since held out $6,185 from the township's general assistance appropriation, making it proper, at this time, for the township to file the suit.

When Judge Williams dismissed the original complaint, he gave the township leave to file an amended motion, if it wished. "Therefore, there will be an appeal," Adams concluded.

There also was discussion of another court case pending against a business in the township which was found guilty of about 60 zoning violations more than two months ago, but has never been called to court for assessment of a penalty.

One man said he was told Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron is to set a date for a court appearance to assess the penalties, but has repeatedly failed to do so.

Joseph Garcia, Democratic precinct committeeman from Miracle Manor, said the township has been attempting to have the zoning problems resolved for seven years, while the business allegedly has been operating in defiance of the law.

He suggested the township "foot the bill" for sending a delegation to Springfield and asking federal authorities to investigate why the judicial system has failed to respond to obvious violations of the law, despite repeated objections from area residents.

Adams suggested the township write a letter to county officials handling the case and urge immediate action in assessing penalties and resolving the alleged violations.

(Granite City Steel) In business 100 years, Granite City Steel has never been stronger, its prospects never brighter than in its centennial year.

Granite City Steel has the right facilities, the right products, the right location and the right people for success in the American steel industry.

Both the steel mill and the city where it is located derive their names from a 19th Century protective and decorative coating for iron pots and pans and other household utensils — a smooth, glossy enamel whose key ingredient was ground granite.

Two brothers, William F. and Frederick G. Niedringhaus, developed and patented their own process for making and applying this enamel and created one of the major industries of the day.

Their business, the St. Louis Stamping Company, expanded rapidly, manufacturing kettles, bake pans and trays, pots, jars and tubs, cuspidors and kettles, virtually every kind of graniteware utensil.

Early settlers in the westward expansion carried Granite Ironware utensils.

Testimonial ads described Granite's products as "durable, elegant, clean and everlasting." Granite City Steel's connection with this enterprise began in 1878 when the Niedringhaus brothers built the Granite Iron Rolling Mills at Second and Des Moines streets in St. Louis to supply their Stamping Company with sheet iron for its graniteware utensils.

The location is now part of the Mallinckrodt Chemical plant area near the McKinley Bridge. With continued growth, the Niedringhaus brothers expanded again, this time beginning with their purchase of 3,300 acres of Illinois farmland.

The Granite City Steel Works went into production in 1895, making steel and rolling it into bars for a new Stamping Company plant in Granite City. The City of Granite City grew up around the plants.

Other milestones in the 100-year history of Granite City Steel:

1898 — Granite City Steel, St. Louis Stamping and other Niedringhaus plants were consolidated with four other companies, each a large producer of household enameled ware, into the National Enameling and Stamping Company. NESCO was one of the large corporations of that day.

1905 — The Granite City Steel Works took on its first customer other than NESCO's stamping plants, supplying tin plate to Pease Mill Company.

1927 — Granite City Steel was separated from NESCO, became an independent corporation.

1935 — Granite City Steel Company survived a technological development which forced other small, independent flat-rolled steel producers of its size range out of business.

The U.S. was in the middle of the worst depression in its history.

However, the company managed to raise the capital required to make a costly transition from the old hand-pack mills to continuous rolling with massive electrical power.

1961 — Granite City Steel acquired the one-time Koppers Co. blast furnace plant, became an integrated steel producer.

1964 — A. O. Smith opened its auto frame plant in Granite City to obtain steel from Granite City Steel.

There has been only one larger plant moved into the St. Louis metropolitan area in all the years since World War II.

1967 — A new Basic Oxygen Furnace Shop replaced the open hearth process which had produced about 30 million tons of steel from the first heat in 1895 to the final heat June 10, 1967.

The 80-inch, computerized hot strip mill replaced the 1935 semi-continuous mill.

1971 — Acquired by National Steel Corporation, a leading U.S. steel producer, Granite City Steel became a division of National, along with Weirton Steel in Weirton, West Virginia, Great Lakes Steel in the Detroit area, and Midwest Steel in the Chicago area.

A while it is nice to look back, more are more interested in what lies ahead.

George A. Stinson, chairman of National Steel, touched on that subject when he spoke at the 1977 annual meeting of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

A heavy capital investment at Granite City Steel since the merger had increased capacity, he said, and prepared Granite City Steel for "a new era of greater service to those enormous markets which show so great a promise for further growth here, throughout mid-America and the Southern U.S."

The coke ovens, blast furnaces and related facilities used to provide molten iron for refining into steel are a short distance away from the rest of Granite City Steel's plant.

The Blast Furnace Department has been strong in the company until 1951 when it was acquired by Granite City Steel, which subsequently rebuilt and enlarged the major units in this department.

Other mills have been spent to bring emissions from the coke ovens and sinter plant under control.

A new conveyor system moves and stockpiles iron ore pellets.

Coke oven batteries have been rehabilitated and repaired, and there will be more costly improvements in that area.

The blast furnace power plant was expanded to increase blast air production. The two blast furnaces have been refined and improved.

Purification efficiency is of great importance in this large-volume operation, which consumes ore, coke and limestone by the trainload.

The production from Granite City Steel's blast furnaces was formerly restricted by the quality of the burden materials available. Today, with the right burden, the two furnaces can produce 5,000 tons of hot metal per day.

Ladle or hot metal cars carry 200-ton loads of molten pig iron, a material which is about 85 percent pure iron, from the blast furnaces to the basic oxygen furnaces a mile away. There a precise mixture is transferred to charging ladles and poured into a basic oxygen furnace to be refined into high quality carbon steel.

The cleaning of waste gases generated by Blast Furnace Department operations is a major undertaking.

Although you would not know it to look at them, the blast furnaces themselves generate a huge volume of dust-laden exhaust gases.

A stage cleaning removes all but a trace of dust, and the blast furnace gas is then burned as a fuel.

Dust and emissions are controlled by two systems — a Venturi scrubber and a baghouse-type air cleaner.

Early in 1975, Granite City Steel and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency completed an agreement to provide time for the company to complete major air pollution control projects. In a joint statement issued on that occasion, the agreement was described as "the most significant settlement of its kind ever accomplished in the state of Illinois and, possibly, the nation."

Included in the agreement was the installation of a new technology which had been developed at Granite City Steel — an enclosed, one-spot, coke pushing emissions control system.

A patent has been applied for. This development represents a technology, proven in day-to-day coke plant operations, for overcoming one of the steel industry's most difficult environmental problems: how to capture and clean the emissions which begin when finished coke breaks into flames as it is pushed from an oven and continues until the coke receiver car reaches a water quench station.

The National Steel emissions control system is available with a proven license to other steel producers and a number of others have been received.

BASIC OXYGEN FURNACE. Steelmaking is a uniquely big volume operation.

Efficiency demands rapid movement of bulk materials in large tonnages, light control over high temperatures and complicated chemical reactions between gases, slags and molten metal.

The amounts of carbon, manganese and other alloying elements in a heat of steel weighing hundreds of tons must be held within limits measured in pounds. Nowhere is the concept of production rate more evident than in a modern basic oxygen furnace plant like the one at Granite City Steel.

The furnaces themselves and the large steel building which surrounds them are designed to meet the materials handling imperatives involved in producing a 235-ton heat of steel every 66 minutes on the average — as against eight hours or more in an open hearth furnace which the BOF replaced in 1967.

The BOF process begins when 90 tons of scrap are dumped into the open mouth of the pear-shaped furnace vessel. Then a powerful electric arc heats the waste gas main in metal ladle into position above the furnace and pours about 180 tons of blast furnace pig iron on top of the scrap.

Pure oxygen is blasted on the mixture at almost twice the speed of sound to burn off impurities.

Burned lime and fluxes are gravity-fed into the furnace and a slag forms and unites with the impurities.

The heat is tapped as soon as the carbon content within the narrow limits allowed. Meanwhile, the tremendous volume of furnace exhaust gases — the waste gas main is 13½ feet in diameter — is cooled from temperatures approaching 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit to 450 degrees as it enters the electrostatic precipitators where the dust is removed.

Emissions from the pouring of molten iron into the BOF charging ladle are handled in a separate gas cleaning system.

80-INCH HOT STRIP MILL. The key process in the manufacture of flat-rolled carbon steel products is the hot strip mill.

Granite City Steel operates a mill as large and modern as any to be found in Japan or Europe. It is one of only three hot strip mills in the United States capable of rolling thicknesses of more than ½ inch in coil form.

It can also heat the capabilities of many rival hot strip mills in rolling heavy gauge material in width up to 27 inches and in rolling the light gauges down to .003 of an inch.

The modern, wide hot strip mill is not a single machine. It is a massive complex of buildings, heating furnaces, roughing and finishing mills and coilers.

The furnaces, electric drive motors and control systems, pumps, blowers and many other auxiliary facilities consume large quantities of fuel, power, water, steam and compressed air.

The slab which enters the mill after being heated is a unit of steel up to 10 inches thick, 77 inches wide, 35 feet long and weighing as much as 45,000 pounds.

The steel is reduced in thickness and increased in length at each rolling stand.

At the end, a strip of steel several thousand feet long moving at speeds up to 45 miles an hour races through cooling sprays into the coilers.

The mill produces hundreds of tons a hour of hot rolled plate and sheet steel.

Coils leave on an automatic conveyor for shipping to customers or further processing.

THINNER, STRONGER AND HARDER SHEET STEEL PRODUCTS. Many manufacturers need more than 20 percent of the total capital National Steel has invested in this division since 1971 — has gone for high energy crucibles, electrostatic precipitators, baghouse cleaners and other emission controls and for wastewater treatment.

In addition, solid wastes, more than any potentially hazardous substances are controlled.

The Environmental Quality Control Department oversees major environmental research, engineering and capital expenditures.

This department conducts ongoing monitoring and analytical programs to assure the effectiveness of the many environmental control systems in operation at the plant, plus monitoring the environment of employees throughout the plant.

The department is staffed by professional engineers, environmental scientists, and chemists. It operates an extensive environmental laboratory.

Granite City Steel operates its own water system and its own complex of facilities to remove impurities or pollutants.

The plant requires up to 70 million gallons a day — as much as city of 400,000 people — to cool, quench, rinse, clean and perform other functions.

However, intake needs are only about 35 million gallons a day.

The larger part of the water treatment is done by the system is recycled after most of the pollutants have been removed at primary and secondary-stage treatment facilities.

A large water treatment plant provides advanced three-stage treatment to all water leaving Granite City Steel's system.

A breakpoint chlorination process and deep-bed filtration reduce already low levels of suspended solids, iron and ammonia-nitrogen concentrations.

This water discharged into Horseshoe Lake — up to 25 million gallons a day — meets and exceeds state and federal standards.

It is much cleaner than the water already in the lake, and is far cleaner than when it was originally drawn into the Granite City Steel system through the intake station on the Chain of Rocks Canal of the Mississippi River.

St. Louis is now the second largest auto and truck assembly center in the U.S.; Kansas City across the state ranks third. Recent improvements in production capabilities have prepared Granite City Steel to take advantage of the surge in growth in its Midwest, South and Southwest markets.

One expanding product area consists of the high-strength steels developed by National's Research Division and Automotive Sales Division.

Granite City Steel now offers a wider range of high-strength steels in hot rolled, cold rolled and galvanized — steels with the potential for weight reduction which is so important for many of today's end users.

Granite City Steel's broad line of high-building products also faces an expanding future. Their market extends over most of the United States.

In addition to Strongpanel and grain bin sheets, Granite City Steel markets Strongbar and Strongbar II galvanized roofing and siding.

Also Strongtrim galvanized and color-coated building accessories and Strongdrain galvanized and color-coated raincoats.

CONTINUING GAINS IN ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY CONTROL. Granite City Steel employs a more than 20 percent of the total capital National Steel has invested in this division since 1971 — has gone for high energy crucibles, electrostatic precipitators, baghouse cleaners and other emission controls and for wastewater treatment.

3 lose wallets while shopping

Three women had wallets stolen from their purses, apparently in the space of a few minutes, while each was shopping separately at the Kroger store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center at noon Friday.

Mrs. Esther Karamihal, 2561 Adams St., said her black wallet, containing $5 cash, a blank, signed check made out to Kroger, a checkbook, credit cards and personal papers, was taken from her purse.

Mrs. Hazel Butts, 2747 Washington Ave., reported a green wallet with $30 cash and miscellaneous papers inside was stolen from her handbag.

Mrs. Eunice Willis, 2533 Adams St., reported her red wallet was stolen, containing $25 cash and personal papers.

Mrs. Willis said a tall woman tried to make conversation with her several times and was standing nearby whenever she turned around.

Mrs. Karamihal noticed a tall, heavy-set black woman standing close to her on two or three occasions.

The woman, who did not appear to be shopping, was described between 40 and 50 years old, large frame, wearing glasses, a head scarf, blue slacks and a white blouse patterned with blue flowers.

Vehicle found, shotgun missing

Mevin Razor, 3801 Lake Drive, told police at 4:30 a.m. Saturday that his 1960 station wagon had been stolen by a man he had offered a ride from a Madison tavern to Granite City.

Razor said he stopped at a friend's house in the 3000 block of Sinclair Avenue and the man drove away in the vehicle while he was inside.

The station wagon was recovered some time later at the Curve Inn, 2618 Missouri Ave. A double barrel shotgun was missing from the vehicle.

Youth, 17, charged
When an officer stopped a station wagon at 10:35 p.m. Saturday at Franklin and Cottage avenues, he allegedly confiscated five unopened bottles of beer, a can of beer, two empty bottles and a partially full can from the vehicle.

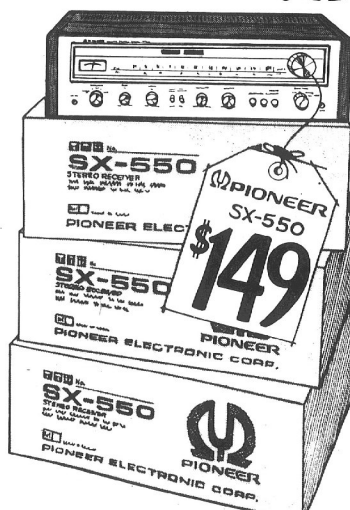

The driver, Darren P. Geisler, 17, of 2159 State St., was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol, and three minors in the car were warned by the officer.

The youths said they purchased the beer at a liquor store in Granite City.

Geisler is appear for a hearing June 29.

Balloon message answered from North Carolina

A telephone call to Blair School has been received from a teacher in North Carolina who had found a balloon with a message in it.

Mrs. Marguerite Connole, assistant curriculum director, told the Madison School Board Thursday evening, "I would like to inform the board that a first grade teacher, Mrs. Robbie Chandler, telephoned Blair from Newcom, N.C., to inform us she had found one of the balloons that had been released two days earlier."

"Mrs. Chandler teaches in Blair Creek school and said her students will be answering the letter from Blair sent by balloon."

classes at Blair released more than 90 helium-filled balloons, each containing a message written by one of the children, asking for persons finding the balloons to reply.

The Blair student who wrote the letter, found in North Carolina was DeMarque Crockett.

Mrs. Connole added, "We have completed the safety poster campaign and are appreciative of the Madison fire and police departments for helping sponsor this program. 'We have had a very good year and I want to thank the Granite City Press-Record for the excellent coverage given us in all our functions. My news clipping file this year is bigger than it has ever been.'"

Recorder Group is an instrumental unit that was formed recently. The program was directed by Miss Alicia Hendrickson, director of vocal music at the school.

The officer alleged the car made about eight circles, then went onto Nameoki Road spinning tires and sliding sideways, and then returned to the parking lot where the car was stopped near the Nameoki Cinema.

The driver and a passenger got out and officers alleged finding a plastic bag of marijuana on the front floorboard. Clements was released 75 minutes later on a notice to appear in court after posting his driver's license as bail. James was released at the same time on $55 cash bond.

Brush pickups to discontinue after June 1

Pickups of brush and tree limbs along Granite City streets will be discontinued June 1, Lionel Portell, city street superintendent, announced Tuesday.

Portell said the trucks and manpower used in such pickups will be assigned to the summer street program which this year involves extensive repair work resulting from the severe winter weather. Extremely low temperatures and heavy snows has caused many streets to break up and become filled with chuck holes, he said.

"We plan to make one last round on June 1 for final pickups, and then cut off regular pickups until next fall," Portell said.

Ill. Knights of Columbus will convene

Illinois Knights of Columbus will meet in Chicago at the Marriott-O'Hare motor hotel May 26-28 to combine a weekend of convention business with a mini-vacation for their families. More than 1,500 knights, their wives and children are expected to attend the 81st annual Knights of Columbus state meeting, according to State Deputy Joseph S. Bomba, general chairman.

To keynote the convention, Congressman Henry J. Hyde (Ill. 6th Dist.) will address the delegates, visiting knights and ladies at the civic opening Saturday morning.

John Cardinal Cody, archbishop of Chicago, will be principal speaker at the state deputy's dinner that evening. Prior to the state deputy's dinner, Most Rev. Arthur J. O'Neill, bishop of Rockford and state chaplain for the knights, will be the principal celebrant of a consecrated Mass at nearby Mary, Seat of Wisdom Church, Park Ridge. A number of council chaplains will celebrate with Bishop O'Neill Saturday morning.

Afternoon and Sunday morning business sessions will be called to order by State Deputy Robert F. Hiesel of Kankakee. In addition to serving as the leading K. of C. officer in Illinois, Hiesel is a supreme director on the 22-member board that directs the policies and business of the international Catholic fraternal society, whose headquarters are in New Haven, Conn.

While the convention is in session, the ladies will be attending a luncheon and fashion show that Saturday and a breakfast featuring entertainment on Sunday morning.

Family participation, one of the requirements of most Illinois K. of C. programs, will be in evidence around the convention headquarters. Crafts and games, plus a supervised baby-sitting service, are available on the hotel premises and a game room has been set aside for teenagers, along with two swimming pools and tennis courts.

At the final business session May 28, resolutions will be offered and new state officers elected. In addition to Hiesel, Illinois K. of C. officers are State Secretary Herbert L. Gengenhuber of Palatine, State Treasurer Darrell W. Beck of Decatur, State Advocate Robert T. Kellam of Chicago and State Warden Anselm H. Helmer Jr. of Waterloo.

STEAL WAGON FROM LOT Tom Tarantino of Bethalto reported during the weekend the theft of his 1972 yellow Datsun station wagon from Rocco's II parking area.

Juror pay up; savings on jail

Beginning June 1, the pay of jurors in Madison County Circuit Court will double — from $5 to $10 per day — the Madison County Board has decided.

In a resolution doubling the juror pay, the board's judiciary committee and finance committee noted, "Due to excellent management practices by the judiciary and court administrator, there are now sufficient funds available, under the original budget, to pay juror fees of $10, instead of $5."

"Whereas, the members of the County Board recognize the importance of jury service by the citizens of Madison County and that, in fact, such service is of greater value even than the $10 per day that is proposed to be paid to said jurors; therefore, be it hereby resolved that the daily fee for jury service, during the remainder of fiscal 1978, beginning with the jurors first called in June, be increased from $5 to $10 per day."

Finance committee members told the board that the county is doing well and keeping within its budget in all areas, not just the judicial branch.

It was noted that expenditures May 15 normally are one-third of the budget, and only 31.5 percent had been spent by that date.

However, revenues were down, as only 25.3 percent of anticipated income had been received by May 15, compared to 33 percent expected by that date.

The board authorized the signing of an agreement requested by the city of Edwardsville in conjunction with construction of the new county jail, which is in progress.

The agreement releases Edwardsville from all liabilities or suits which may arise from the construction or any defective workmanship, in return for which the city will waive all inspections, inspection fees and permits.

Board members estimated that about $5,000 in permit and inspection fees will be saved by the agreement, which will reduce the contractor's price to the county.

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer of Granite City said a lack of city inspections during the construction will not harm the quality of the work or materials, since the county has assigned "a clerk of the works" to continue inspections and protect the county from work and materials which do not meet the terms of the construction contract.

Discussion of the jail led the board to request that Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles write letters to state legislators, asking them to support a pending state bill which would reimburse counties for their expenditures for state-mandated projects, particularly the construction of a new jail.

The board members agreed to pay $75,852 in claims accumulated thus far in the jail construction. They were told construction is on schedule. It was estimated the jail will take 18 months to construct. The members also agreed to pay bills totaling $113,103 related to construction of sanitary sewers for Nameoki, Choutau and Venice townships.

Board Member Walter "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the county's special sewer committee, commented, "This is a big bill, but it amounts to most outstanding debts accumulated over the years that we have been trying to get this project under way. Some have waited years to be paid and we now have the money in the bank."

The bills included $35,250 to Harry E. Hartman, attorney, $2,135 to Horace Calvo, attorney, $12,451 to Larry Calvo, attorney, $2,250 to William Schooley, attorney, $16,875 to Wauterick & Brown, financial consultants, $33,446 to Guarantee Abstract and Title for right-of-way searches, $6,261 to Borge & Pitman, bond attorneys, $1,100 to Moody's Investors' Service for a bond rating, and others.

Sheppard, Morgan & Sch-

waab, engineers and consultants, Granite City, submitted a $104,768 bill for engineering work and sewer plans, but withdrew that bill until a future date, records show.

Board Member Herbert "Junior" Milner of Granite City was congratulated by the board for being elected second vice president of the Illinois Association of County Officials during the annual state convention.

Hagauer commented, "This goes to show that our county is being recognized throughout the state of Illinois."

"It is to our credit that people are participating in these various conventions and are being recognized for their work."

Training for wards of state

A $600,000 training and employment project for wards of the state was announced Tuesday by Director Margaret M. Kennedy of the Department of Children and Family Services.

"We want to increase future employment prospects of our youth," Miss Kennedy said, "particularly those who are considered the least likely to get jobs. This project gives us a chance to do just that. The learning and earning experiences will help them to become self-sufficient and productive adults."

The project is expected to start serving wards this month. About 300 youths will receive training and guidance by June 30, 1979. A broad range of training and employment programs for department wards 16 years of age and over will be offered. "Special emphasis will be placed on reaching youths in the department's independent living program to prevent them from getting caught in the welfare dependency cycle," Miss Kennedy said.

Truck jackknives on Venice bridge

McKinley Bridge employees are checking the structure to see if any damage resulted from a trailer-truck, which jackknifed on the west end of the bridge during the weekend.

The 1976 International truck, operated by Albert Dale Cowing of Overland, Mo., is owned by Motor Transport Co., St. Louis. St. Louis police handled the accident, Venice officers said.

3-month cell work at Alton locks wall

Massman Construction Co. of Kansas City, Mo., is the apparent low bidder for a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers contract to construct a terminal cell along the lower guide wall at Locks and Dam No. 26 at Alton.

Cells of this type are part of the guide walls at the Mississippi River facility, and are used to align tows to enter a lock chamber. As such, they are subject to heavy wear.

The work calls for construction of steel sheet piling filled with concrete and sand and equipped with steel plate protection and a rubbing band.

A similar type of cell filled with rock was damaged in 1976, dumping the rock fill material into the channel.

The accident and ensuing repair work caused lockage delays and resulted in backups of as many as 90 tows of approximately 1,600 barges.

Wally Feld, chief of the Lock and Dam Section for the Corps, said construction of the new cell is another phase of repair work required to keep the old structure, built in the late 1930s, in operational condition.

The work is expected to take three months for completion. Most of the work can be accomplished from the off-channel side, and only limited traffic disruption is expected.

In Memoriam
In memory of ROBIN M. SMITH
May 27, 1977
It hardly seems true, A year has slipped by, And the heart hasn't healed, Too often I still cry, You were beckoned so suddenly, To Jesus' side, That I couldn't accept the fact you'd died, I don't see God's purpose, In taking you away, But I live with the promise, I'll see you again one day, Love, your cousin, Tammy 33 5 25

"POULTRY . . . Those Foolproof Fowl!"

Within the memory of many Americans, a presidential campaign was distinguished by the promise that votes cast for one of the parties would put a chicken in every pot in the country.
 This strategic appeal to man's love of good food was not original in 1928. Somewhat the same idea was expressed several hundred years before in a more warmhearted way by a French king, Henry IV of Navarre. After eating a "Poule-Au-Pot" he said fervently that he wished every subject in his realm might do the same, every Sunday of the year.
 Chicken is still popular, and for good reason. It is economical and is one of the most versatile meats used in cooking today. Wrapped in a crispy crust, chicken is a familiar friend at a picnic and can delight even the most discriminating palate when dressed in a delicate wine sauce.
 Be sure to pick up some of our favorite chicken recipes this week at your nearby Tri-City Supermarket.
